MEMORIAL TO HARDING IS PLANNED

Coolidge and Cabinet Ask to Incorporate for Task of Erecting Mausoleum

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
COLUMBIA, Oct. 8.—Application was made to the Secretary of State today for the incorporation of the Harding Memorial Association, the purpose of which is to erect a mausoleum at Marion for the late President Warren G. Harding and to acquire the Harding homestead at Marion for conversion into a shrine. The memorial association is incorporated by the Coolidge and cabinet members of the cabinet and fifteen Marion citizens, friends of Mr. Harding.

German Light Breakfast Hit by Physicians

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
BERLIN, Oct. 8.—The German "two breakfast" idea—a cup of coffee the first thing in the morning and more coffee with a sandwich at 10 or 11 o'clock—is scored by physicians who have started a campaign in favor of a more substantial meal on arising.

Obregon Shows Continued Gain; Danger Passes

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8.—President Obregon, who has been ill, continued to show improvement today. Members of the executive family and his associates in Congress now believe that he is out of danger. Marked change for the better in his condition began yesterday and was used before the war. Manufacturers of breakfast foods have taken advantage of the campaign to advertise their products extensively, and these are being sold in fancy cartons after the American fashion.

GRANT IS INDICTED IN MURDER OF GLOY

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
OAKLAND, Oct. 8.—An indictment naming Frank Grant in connection with the murder of Henry Gloy, Jr., a week ago in a raid by bandits on the Gloy home here, was returned late today by the Alameda county grand jury.

Two-Alarm Fire Wrecks Large Buildings Near Sixth and San Pedro Streets at Midnight

A two-alarm fire starting in third story of the Downie Brothers Tent and Awning Company building at 649 San Pedro street shortly before midnight completely wrecked the building and damaged adjoining buildings with an estimated loss of $300,000.

NEW CALIPATRIA HIGH SCHOOL SOON TO OPEN

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CALIPATRIA, Oct. 8.—After a complete inspection of the new high school building here, members of the Board of Trustees asserted that the structure would be ready for occupancy soon. Delay in obtaining necessary hardware prevented the completion of the building in time for the opening of school last month. The new high school building is considered one of the finest of its kind in Southern California. The cost was nearly $150,000. School trustees announced that the opening of the building will be celebrated with a housewarming to which the public is to be invited.

Woman Witness Says She Saw Accused Wife in Room of Wallace

Bygone Years Combed for Evidence Against the Defendant

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Speed marked the first day of the retrial of the divorce case which W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy 70-year-old hotel owner, has brought against his wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, a woman more than forty-five years his junior.

CHANCELLOR STRESEMANN GETS CONFIDENCE VOTE

Reichstag Overwhelmingly Favors Newest Government; Another Reparations Plan

(BY JOHN CLAYTON)
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
BERLIN, Oct. 9.—Chancellor Stresemann obtained an overwhelming vote of confidence in the Reichstag late last night. The policies of the new government were endorsed by all parties except the Nationalists, Communists and the Bavarian Volkspartei. A vote was taken at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Strutinsky is Held to Grand Jury on Murder Charge by Coroner

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Emily Strutinsky, who shot and killed Rev. Basil Stetuk while in the confessional box at St. Nicholas' Ukrainian Catholic Church, was held to the grand jury on a charge of murder by the coroner's jury late today. Mrs. Strutinsky was not allowed to testify at the inquest.

WALLACE ACCUSED

A sensation of the day was when Mr. Wallace, in his opening address, asserted that Wallace and some officials of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, kept a "private rendezvous" where they "certain female" and Wallace obtained a private apartment. It was at the latter place, that Mrs. Miller, the negro, testified to seeing Mrs. Stokes.

NO DEMONSTRATION

No demonstration greeted any of Kels' appearances. The crowds regarded him silently, but with keen curiosity. Sheriff William Rieckles showed him the same consideration that has been shown him throughout. He was marched through the thickest of the crowd without handcuffs and with nothing to mark him as the notorious prisoner except his own remnant-stopped body and his air of deep dejection.

HUSBAND TO AID

The woman's husband, Rev. Nicholas Strutinsky, telegraphed to the police headquarters in Chicago to aid his wife. The Shakespeare-avenue commandant, who was given the woman's name, acted alone in the killing and that in his judgment her answers to questions far have shown her to be normal.

CASES OUTLINED

Counsel for Mrs. Stokes announced he would object to trying the issue on only one allegation of misconduct. He said the jury that in previous trials Stokes had "made forty-nine charges against Mrs. Stokes, involving sixteen men, including her sixteen-stepson, a cousin and other persons," and that he was prepared to prove all those charges false.

will reply to the various French and Belgian officials' statements that they must obtain reparations from Germany the amount of the debts which they must repay the United States and Great Britain by making how much these sums.

TO FORCE SHOWDOWN

This is expected to force Germany to attempt to reach an amicable accord with France as the payments and that the other Allies will seek to find a means of coming to an understanding with their debts.

This procedure was hinted at by Lord Curzon in his speech before the imperial conference when he asked pointedly how much reparations France demanded. Premier Poincaré already has announced that he wants 25,000,000 gold marks ($5,500,000,000) to repair the devastated regions of what France must pay to Great Britain and the United States, which total more than 20,000,000,000 gold marks ($4,500,000,000) more unless the debts are reduced.

Italy's claims and how much Italy is to get also must be known for a general settlement of the amount of the German reparations.

CARLES TURNED NAVY INQUIRY

Advocate Takes Stand at Wreck Quiz

Commander Says He Had Suspicion of Danger

Radio Message Put Him in Quandary

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Tables turned at today's session of inquiry investigating the destroyer disaster when the radio advocate and assistant judge-advocate, Lieut. Hardy A. Page, who was navigator of the U.S.S. Paul Hamilton, testified in the column as the destroyers turned east.

It was about 5:30 p.m. or half an hour before the wreck, Lieut. Page testified, that he began to have misgivings as to the safety of the course they were steering. A radio bearing from Point Arguello indicated, he said, that they were close inshore. When the head of the column turned east at 9 o'clock he advised his commanding officer not to follow, he continued, and ran to plot the new course on the chart. When he returned to tell the captain that the new course as plotted indicated peril ahead, the witness added the Paul Hamilton already was shunting out of the way of ships ahead which were backing toward it.

Asked if he did not think it would have been a good idea for him to have messaged his misgivings to the safety of the squadron's course to the squadron commander's flagship, Lieut. Page admitted that it might have been wiser, "in the light of what happened."

WITNESS CAUTIONED

Lieut. Page was cross-examined at some length by counsel for defendants who lost their ships in the wreck. Some of his answers were not direct enough, from the point of view of counsel, and he was finally asked to "stick to the question again and answer yes or no."

The judge-advocate came to his defense at this point and objected to any effort to compel a categorical answer. The court sustained the objection.

Organization of communication facilities in the destroyer force of the battle fleet was described by Lieutenant-Commander G. N. Baker, communication officer of the destroyer squadron. He said the radio personnel of the eleventh squadron was "very good" and did work "equal, if not better" than that which he had observed in other squadron activities.

The inquiry will be resumed tomorrow.

ANGELINO IS HONORED

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Oct. 8.—Albert Park of Los Angeles has been elected to the editorial board of the Harvard Law Review, a legal publication conducted by students of Harvard. Mr. Parker, a second-year student in the law school, took his academic degree at the University of California.

Women can now travel safely alone at night in Corsica.

Concerning the collection of money at the cemetery gate for the "Bellevue Memorial Association," the report, submitted 600 francs have been collected and deposited with the Bankers' Trust Company. Visitors to the cemetery are not importuned to contribute there being merely a sign above the register to the effect that "contributions are accepted."

Nothing reprehensible or wrong has occurred in connection with this method of collection, it is said. The purpose for which the money is collected and the motives of all those engaged in the enterprise are characterized as lofty and deserving of praise but the report concludes:

"Receipt of money by an official of the government to be administered by a voluntary association is open to misconception and criticism and should be discontinued."

BAD-CHECK SUSPECT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Oct. 8.—Barney McAninch, who has been in jail here on a charge of passing worthless checks, died at the County Hospital today. Hospital authorities attributed his death to over-indulgence in narcotics. McAninch's death will probably result in the dismissal of charges pending against C. H. Wright and Ralph McCreary who have been held here by the police as the other members of an asserted check-passing ring. McAninch was the State's sole witness against the two men and testified against them at their preliminary hearing.

FIRE RAZES GARAGE OF VENTURA SCHOOL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

VENTURA, Oct. 8.—Fire destroyed the garage and five automobiles at the California School for Girls late Sunday night. Officers at the school state they believe the fire was caused by defective wiring in one of the cars. The school is far outside the city limits so the fire department could not respond to the call. However, individuals from the fire department and many citizens helped in checking the blaze.

CHILD BADLY HURT WHEN HIT BY TRUCK

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Oct. 8.—Carol, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. White of this city, may die of injuries she received late today when she was struck by a heavy truck said to have been driven by N. D. Evers, an employee of a lumber company. The child was riding on a tricycle and was carried out of the street when she lost control of the steering apparatus. The truck passed over her body inflicting serious internal injuries and breaking her right leg.

EXPRESS TRAINS IN CRASH

Twenty-five Hurt in Rear-end Electric Car Collision in Illinois; Motorman May Die

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—About twenty-five passengers were injured, at least thirteen seriously, when two express trains on the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Electric Railroad crashed today in a rear-end collision near a prairie station known as Wolf Road, about one mile west of Belvidere.

The motorist of the rear express, Francis C. Drury, was crushed between the two trains and probably will die.

THIRTEEN TO HOSPITAL

The thirteen most seriously injured were placed on Chicago and Northwestern trains and rushed to Oak Park, where ambulances carried them to the Oak Park hospital. Others bruised and cut by flying glass were carried away in ambulances and private cars for emergency treatment in Maywood, Elmhurst, and other nearby towns.

According to statements of railroad officials the express which left Wheaton at 6:33 was brought to a stop near Wolf Road by the bursting of an air hose which owend 4,000,000 francs ($250,000) to a Paris jeweler, who turned the bill over to M. Cornuche, director of the Deauville casino. M. Cornuche told Alfonso he would make him a present of the receipted bill if the King would visit Deauville, remaining a month, with all expenses paid.

King Alfonso complied last year and Deauville got an enormous amount of publicity all over the continent, while the King's debt was paid. The whole tale was verified by the police when the censorship difficulty arose.

Co-operative dairymen were discussed by a number of speakers. R. M. Owen of Wales urged centralization and standardization. F. D. Ashland, M. P. of Exeter, England, observed the co-operative societies are inclined to underestimate the importance of employing first-class managers. Mrs. G. Gardner of Baltimore, Md., found few dealers use bookkeeping that will show them unit costs, and L. R. Wilson of Los Angeles, regional vice-president of the National Central Railroad, stated a new era in milk transportation by railway is at hand through the development of the glass-lined tank for bulk transportation of this product.

Liquor Robbery Suspects to Get Hearings Today

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 8.—The story of the hold-up by armed bootleggers of two operatives of Dist. Atty. Johnson's staff on the desert two weeks ago will be told in open court today when S. L. Craig, Herb Austin and Joe E. Cook, the suspects, appear before Justice Kavanaugh for preliminary hearings.

The hold-up, precipitating an inquiry of the state jury of alleged laxity of law enforcement in Needles, was the first armed attack by bootleggers since the enactment of prohibition. The operatives were held up on the National Old Trails Highway, twelve miles west of Needles, and liquor purchased by the operatives from a score of liquor traffickers was poured out into the sand. The operatives assert Craig, Austin and Wilson were the robbers.

NEW CHAMBER DIRECTORS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

POMONA, Oct. 8.—Dr. F. W. Burns, C. F. Curran, Merrill E. Bellows, Cecil George Schuyler H. Park and Fred Reynolds are the six new members of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce board of directors. The men were nominated two weeks ago. Eleven candidates had been nominated. The new president will be elected at the annual meeting.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 8.—Candidates for the presidency of the California Association of Real Estate Boards to be determined at the annual convention at Sacramento this month, have simmered down to two and the first will be between Long Beach and Los Angeles, it was said here today.

Henry P. Barbour, president of the Long Beach Realty Board, and one of the best-known realtors in California, will oppose O. A. Vickrey of Los Angeles, regional vice-president for that district.

Long Beach realtors are solidly behind Barbour and looking to Pasadena and Oakland to support Barbour.

Syracuse Honors Delegates to World Congress

Doctor of Law Conferred on Californian

Value of Milk as Food is Topic of Meetings

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) Oct. 8.—Delegates to the World's Dairy Congress, in session here today assembled at Syracuse University and watched the conferring of honorary degrees on the president of the dairy congress and upon ten foreign delegates.

H. E. Van Norman, California, head of the world society and Dr. Longobardi of Rome were awarded degrees of doctor of laws. The degree of doctor of sciences was bestowed upon Dr. Masamichi Sato, Japan; Dr. C. H. Porcher, France; Sir Arnold Theiler, South Africa; R. Stenhouse Williams, England; S. Orla Jensen, Denmark; Dr. Robert Burri, Switzerland; Dr. L. Hastings, Toronto, Canada; Dr. A. Leighton, Scotland; and H. A. Isachsen, representing Norway.

The bestowal of degrees by Syracuse University followed a number of sectional meetings of the dairy congress, at which the value of milk as a food, was emphasized.

Miss Jessie M. Hoover of Washington explained community milk-for-health programs as conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture. Miss Lucy H. Gillett of New York suggested welfare organizations and milk organizations might well join hands in advertising campaigns to increase the use of milk, and Miss Helen C. Campbell of the Canadian Department of Agriculture told how the Dominion dairy branch by educational work brings to the attention of children and adults the value of a satisfactory diet.

Co-operative dairymen were discussed by a number of speakers. R. M. Owen of Wales urged centralization and standardization. F. D. Ashland, M. P. of Exeter, England, observed the co-operative societies are inclined to underestimate the importance of employing first-class managers. Mrs. G. YANKS' GRAVES ARE REMOVED

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Brig. Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Martin W. Littleton, who have been conducting an investigation into the conditions at the Bellevue Wood Cemetery, where many American soldiers are buried, today made public "We found, said their statement, "that due to the removal within the past few months of 1500 bodies, it became necessary to remove and concentrate the location of those remains. This necessitated laying out the cemetery on entirely different lines, which was done with great haste, but the required work of reconstruction, road-building and drainage, while remaining unfinished, has been made possible only partially accessible and in its turn-up condition it presents a disagreeable aspect."

The investigators say the work of reconstruction was let to subcontractors without limit and consequently there is no means of saying when the work will be completed.

Concerning the collection of money at the cemetery gate for the "Bellevue Memorial Association," the report, submitted 600 francs have been collected and deposited with the Bankers' Trust Company. The degree of doctor of sciences was bestowed upon Dr. Masamichi Sato, Japan; Dr. C. H. Porcher, France; Sir Arnold Theiler, South Africa; R. Stenhouse Williams, England; S. Orla Jensen, Denmark; Dr. Robert Burri, Switzerland; Dr. L. Hastings, Toronto, Canada; Dr. A. Leighton, Scotland; and H. A. Isachsen, representing Norway.

The bestowal of degrees by Syracuse University followed a number of sectional meetings of the dairy congress, at which the value of milk as a food, was emphasized.

Miss Jessie M. Hoover of Washington explained community milk-for-health programs as conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture. Miss Lucy H. Gillett of New York suggested welfare organizations and milk organizations might well join hands in advertising campaigns to increase the use of milk, and Miss Helen C. Campbell of the Canadian Department of Agriculture told how the Dominion dairy branch by educational work brings to the attention of children and adults the value of a satisfactory diet.

Co-operative dairymen were discussed by a number of speakers. R. M. Owen of Wales urged centralization and standardization. F. D. Ashland, M. P. of Exeter, England, observed the co-operative societies are inclined to underestimate the importance of employing first-class managers. Mrs. G. Gardner of Baltimore, Md., found few dealers use bookkeeping that will show them unit costs, and L. R. Wilson of Los Angeles, regional vice-president of the National Central Railroad, stated a new era in milk transportation by railway is at hand through the development of the glass-lined tank for bulk transportation of this product.

YANKS' GRAVES ARE REMOVED

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Brig. Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Martin W. Littleton, who have been conducting an investigation into the conditions at the Bellevue Wood Cemetery, where many American soldiers are buried, today made public "We found, said their statement, "that due to the removal within the past few months of 1500 bodies, it became necessary to remove and concentrate the location of those remains. This necessitated laying out the cemetery on entirely different lines, which was done with great haste, but the required work of reconstruction, road-building and drainage, while remaining unfinished, has been made possible only partially accessible and in its turn-up condition it presents a disagreeable aspect."

The investigators say the work of reconstruction was let to subcontractors without limit and consequently there is no means of saying when the work will be completed.

Concerning the collection of money at the cemetery gate for the "Bellevue Memorial Association," the report, submitted 600 francs have been collected and deposited with the Bankers' Trust Company. Visitors to the cemetery are not importuned to contribute there being merely a sign above the register to the effect that "contributions are accepted."

Nothing reprehensible or wrong has occurred in connection with this method of collection, it is said. The purpose for which the money is collected and the motives of all those engaged in the enterprise are characterized as lofty and deserving of praise but the report concludes:

"Receipt of money by an official of the government to be administered by a voluntary association is open to misconception and criticism and should be discontinued."

BAD-CHECK SUSPECT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Oct. 8.—Barney McAninch, who has been in jail here on a charge of passing worthless checks, died at the County Hospital today. Hospital authorities attributed his death to over-indulgence in narcotics. McAninch's death will probably result in the dismissal of charges pending against C. H. Wright and Ralph McCreary who have been held here by the police as the other members of an asserted check-passing ring. McAninch was the State's sole witness against the two men and testified against them at their preliminary hearing.

FIRE RAZES GARAGE OF VENTURA SCHOOL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

VENTURA, Oct. 8.—Fire destroyed the garage and five automobiles at the California School for Girls late Sunday night. Officers at the school state they believe the fire was caused by defective wiring in one of the cars. The school is far outside the city limits so the fire department could not respond to the call. However, individuals from the fire department and many citizens helped in checking the blaze.

CHILD BADLY HURT WHEN HIT BY TRUCK

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Oct. 8.—Carol, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. White of this city, may die of injuries she received late today when she was struck by a heavy truck said to have been driven by N. D. Evers, an employee of a lumber company. The child was riding on a tricycle and was carried out of the street when she lost control of the steering apparatus. The truck passed over her body inflicting serious internal injuries and breaking her right leg.

EXPRESS TRAINS IN CRASH

Twenty-five Hurt in Rear-end Electric Car Collision in Illinois; Motorman May Die

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—About twenty-five passengers were injured, at least thirteen seriously, when two express trains on the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Electric Railroad crashed today in a rear-end collision near a prairie station known as Wolf Road, about one mile west of Belvidere.

The motorist of the rear express, Francis C. Drury, was crushed between the two trains and probably will die.

THIRTEEN TO HOSPITAL

The thirteen most seriously injured were placed on Chicago and Northwestern trains and rushed to Oak Park, where ambulances carried them to the Oak Park hospital. Others bruised and cut by flying glass were carried away in ambulances and private cars for emergency treatment in Maywood, Elmhurst, and other nearby towns.

According to statements of railroad officials the express which left Wheaton at 6:33 was brought to a stop near Wolf Road by the bursting of an air hose which owend 4,000,000 francs ($250,000) to a Paris jeweler, who turned the bill over to M. Cornuche, director of the Deauville casino. M. Cornuche told Alfonso he would make him a present of the receipted bill if the King would visit Deauville, remaining a month, with all expenses paid.

King Alfonso complied last year and Deauville got an enormous amount of publicity all over the continent, while the King's debt was paid. The whole tale was verified by the police when the censorship difficulty arose.

Co-operative dairymen were discussed by a number of speakers. R. M. Owen of Wales urged centralization and standardization. F. D. Ashland, M. P. of Exeter, England, observed the co-operative societies are inclined to underestimate the importance of employing first-class managers. Mrs. G. Liquor Robbery Suspects to Get Hearings Today

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 8.—The story of the hold-up by armed bootleggers of two operatives of Dist. Atty. Johnson's staff on the desert two weeks ago will be told in open court today when S. L. Craig, Herb Austin and Joe E. Cook, the suspects, appear before Justice Kavanaugh for preliminary hearings.

The hold-up, precipitating an inquiry of the state jury of alleged laxity of law enforcement in Needles, was the first armed attack by bootleggers since the enactment of prohibition. The operatives were held up on the National Old Trails Highway, twelve miles west of Needles, and liquor purchased by the operatives from a score of liquor traffickers was poured out into the sand. The operatives assert Craig, Austin and Wilson were the robbers.

NEW CHAMBER DIRECTORS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

POMONA, Oct. 8.—Dr. F. W. Burns, C. F. Curran, Merrill E. Bellows, Cecil George Schuyler H. Park and Fred Reynolds are the six new members of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce board of directors. The men were nominated two weeks ago. Eleven candidates had been nominated. The new president will be elected at the annual meeting.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Oct. 8.—Candidates for the presidency of the California Association of Real Estate Boards to be determined at the annual convention at Sacramento this month, have simmered down to two and the first will be between Long Beach and Los Angeles, it was said here today.

Henry P. Barbour, president of the Long Beach Realty Board, and one of the best-known realtors in California, will oppose O. A. Vickrey of Los Angeles, regional vice-president for that district.

Long Beach realtors are solidly behind Barbour and looking to Pasadena and Oakland to support Barbour.

BOY TUMBLES THREE FLIGHTS DOWN SHAF

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 8.—George Burger, 12 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Burger of 2117 F street, fell three stories down the elevator shaft of the new Masonic Temple on Eighth street Sunday afternoon. The side of his head was crushed down to two and an arm fractured. He was taken to the Mercy Hospital, where he was placed under the care of Dr. T. M. McNamara.

Syracuse Honors Delegates to World Congress

Doctor of Law Conferred on Californian

Value of Milk as Food is Topic of Meetings

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) Oct. 8.—Delegates to the World's Dairy Congress, in session here today assembled at Syracuse University and watched the conferring of honorary degrees on the president of the dairy congress and upon ten foreign delegates.

H. E. Van Norman, California, head of the world society and Dr. Longobardi of Rome were awarded degrees of doctor of laws. The degree of doctor of sciences was bestowed upon Dr. Masamichi Sato, Japan; Dr. C. H. Porcher, France; Sir Arnold Theiler, South Africa; R. Stenhouse Williams, England; S. YOUR EYES EXAMINED COMPLETE $2.90

An examination of your eyes, a pair of spherical glasses, in a frame, complete for $2.90. One week only. Gold or shell frames, lenses, fancy shapes and double vision glasses correspondingly low.

It is not simply getting a pair of glasses. They may do you an irreparable harm by injuring your vision for the years that are ahead of you.

Buy Skill, Ability and Experience. Have the lenses properly fitted so as to take the strain from the eyes and protect the eyes for the future years. It is this Skill, Ability and Experience that I offer—an Oculist's Examination.

I always try to be reasonable in my charges. No "drops" used. Some of your neighbors are wearing glasses I fitted.

RADICAL ISSUE SPLITS UNIONS

Delegate is Finally Unseated for Red Tendencies

Convention Votes to Limit High Court Power

One Big Union is Revoked; Klan, Fascisti Hit

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 8.—The American Federation of Labor in convention here today revoked the credentials of William E. Dunne of Butte, Mont., Central Labor Council, as a delegate, in a spirited session in which Dunne was characterized as a "traitor to organized labor" on account of his activities as a Communist.

There were only a few scattering votes against the resolution unseating Dunne. Complaints by United Mine Workers' officials against Dunne's utterances through the Butte Bulletin, of which he is editor, figured in charges during the debate and occupied most of the convention's two sessions today.

The vote as announced was 27, 228 ayes and 139 noes.

ONE UNION IDEA REJECTED
Following the unseating of Dunne the convention rejected three resolutions proposing that unions be consolidated along lines of industries instead of crafts—the one-big-union idea. The resolutions charged that those who favor amalgamation aim at the destruction of organized union labor.

Dunne was the author of one of the amalgamation resolutions. Delegate James A. Duncan of Seattle said that the Seattle Central Labor Council had been a pioneer in propaganda for amalgamation. He said, however, that his organization was not endeavoring to disrupt the American Federation of Labor. He said he was in accord with the report of the resolutions committee outlining the federation's attitude on amalgamation.

The executive council's report denouncing "usurpation of government" by the Ku Klux Klan was unanimously approved in a resolution adopted today. It called upon trades unionists to co-operate with the organization as a "menace to American government."

A copy of the report on the Ku Klux Klan was ordered sent to each local organization in the federation.

DENOUNCES FASCISTI
The convention adopted a resolution denouncing the Fascist movement and indorsed the executive council's report flaying that movement. The vote on the resolution "unseating" Dunne brought to issue the conservative and radical elements of the convention. It was taken after several hours of discussion in which Dunne was denounced by Matthew Woll, a vice-president of the federation, and William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America. Dunne himself replied

HOLD-UPS MAKE RICH HAUL

Diamond Merchant Robbed of $100,000 in Gems in Chicago

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Jacob Schoen, diamond merchant staying at the Hotel LaSalle, was robbed of diamonds worth $100,000 today by two hold-up men at Orleans street and North avenue, he reported to the police.

The two men drove up in a large touring car with the license numbers upside down, he said, leveled revolvers at him and escaped with his wallets filled with precious stones. He said he was slugged with an iron bar.

Many of the union delegates are entitled to large votes, notably the miners, with 4049, and the carpenters with 3150. This accounts for the size of the vote cast against Dunne. There are only about 500 delegates.

The convention rejected a resolution to change Labor Day from September 1 to May 1.

Frank Hodges, secretary of the British miners' union, this afternoon replied to remarks by Dunne as to hotels which Hodges had patronized. He declared he had not stopped at those first-class hostilities which Dunne had mentioned.

STRIKES AT COURT
A resolution declaring for limitation of the powers of the Supreme Court of the United States and election of Federal judges for terms instead of appointment for life as at present was adopted late today.

A resolution was adopted commending Gov. Davis of Kansas for efforts to eliminate the "cant" strike law of former Gov. Allen.

The stand of the railway shopmen in the strike last year was approved.

Elimination of the Railway Labor Board, which was characterized as tyrannical, was demanded in a resolution adopted.

MERCED COUNTY ROAD PLANS UNCHANGED

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The State Highway Commission after a hearing today declined to interrupt work on the Pacheco Pass road through Califa, Merced county. A delegation from Chowchilla represented that routing through that town instead of Califa would shorten the sixteen-mile stretch to less than fourteen miles and mean a saving of at least $75,000. Commissioner Harvey Toy, however, pointed out that a contract calling for construction through Califa already had been let.

BANKERS ENTER PLEA OF GUILTY

IOWA MEN ADMIT FRAUD AND ARE SENTENCED TO PRISON

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
HAMPTON (Iowa) Oct. 8.—C. J. Levalley and C. C. Storck of Sheffield county appeared unexpectedly in District Court shortly before noon today and entered pleas of guilty to charges of fraudulent banking and were sentenced to ten years' imprisonment by District Judge E. C. Thompson. Levalley and Storck were started on their way to the Fort Madison penitentiary a few hours after sentence had been passed.

Levalley was cashier and Storck was assistant cashier of the defunct Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Sheffield, Iowa, a former Representative in the lower House of the Iowa Legislature. Storck is a former Mayor of Sheffield.

Both were indicted in connection with the failure of the bank in which depositors were said to have lost a large sum. Several business houses also closed their doors as a result of the bank crash and the entire loss has been estimated at $300,000.

LIBEL SUIT IS LOST BY FORMER JUSTICE

LAFAYETTE YOUNG WAS SUED FOR STATEMENTS MADE IN EDITORIAL

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
DES MOINES (Iowa) Oct. 8.—Ben I. Salingor, former justice of the Iowa Supreme Court, lost his libel suit for $10,000 damages against former Senator Lafayette Young, editor of the Des Moines Capital, in District Court here this afternoon. Judge O. S. Franklin directed that a verdict for the defendant be returned. Senator Young, in an editorial published in February, 1917, stated that Judge Salingor, then serving as a member of the Supreme Court, had attended a committee meeting of the State Legislature and had urged that the committee members recommend for passage a bill providing for an increased number of Supreme Court judges. Judge Salingor denied he attended the committee meeting or urged any such action as stated by Senator Young.

MONEY PINNED TO SHIRT DISAPPEARS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—William Jay, a carpenter, pinned $500 to his shirt and when the shirt got dirty, he sent it to a Chinese laundryman. Later he discovered his loss and rushed to the laundry, but the best he got out of the Chinese was "Me no understand." Jay swore out a warrant for the laundryman, charging him with larceny.

JELICOE'S WIFE IN MANILA

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
MANILA, Oct. 8.—Viscountess Jellicoe, wife of Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, hero of the battle of Jutland in the World War, arrived in Manila yesterday from Australia. She is en route to China on a pleasure tour.

New Element Might Offset Cunning of Giants

Victories Not Dependent on Skill and Strength

BY JAMES CRUSHBERRY

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Although the Yankees are destined to be the favorites in the annual baseball season which is to begin at the stadium Wednesday between the Giants and Yankees to determine which shall wear the world championship emblems next year, the last half as important as an element which plays an important role in every ball game, some call it strategy, some call it cunning and some call it baseball. All are meant to be opposites of another well-known element in baseball called "bone."

CUNNING SURPASSES

However, on past performances some that in a world-series contest a few bits of cunning usually triumph any surpassing ability to swing the ball. Perhaps the main reason with the Yankees last year and the year before when they battled with the Giants was the very way they batted too strongly on our side. On the other hand, the Giants depended on baseball wisdom, employing it at all times. That invisible element not only apparently had a seat on the bench by the side of Manager John McGraw, it whispered into his ears from the start the finish of each game and he acted it over the field to his men. Anyway, we can recall a lot of times that happened where cunning on the part of the Yankees wrecked the chances of their rivals. More than once they drove from the outfield, for instance, and cut down some of the Yankees who sought to win victory by brute force.

IMPORTANT FACTORS

Skill and strength are important factors in a world series, but not more vital than strategy. The Yankees are that the team having the greatest cunning will be the victors this autumn. The team that makes the most bone-headed mistakes will run second. Many a game is wasted by a bit of over thinking.

Indications are that McGraw still has the invisible Mr. Strategy on his side. There was evidence of his presence on numerous occasions.

Conference Teams Evenly Matched This Season

Championship Eleven Faces Gruelling Schedule

Southland Varsities to Start Play on Saturday

BY BRAVEN DYER

"It has been a great many years

since football teams in the Southern California Intercollegiate Conference have been so evenly matched." That's what one manager said yesterday, and although it is too early in the season to substantiate this statement, there is every indication that the 1923

varsity will go through a most gruelling schedule.

Coach Joe Phipps of Occidental

Tigers were working out at Patterson field yesterday, having returned from their short journey to

San Diego Saturday, where they defended the State Teachers for a 33-

-to-7 win. Last season the same two teams met and the score was 33 to 7 in favor of the Tigers.

The Teachers are self-admittedly weaker than last year, while Oxy is supposed to be stronger, but the score rather guff up the dope.

Coach Argue, who is Oxy's end who was removed from the game with a badly hurt elbow, will be back in the harness within the next few days. He was not as

PREPS MINGLE FRIDAY

Opening Games of City League Set for This Week; Coaches Emit Usual Plaintive Bleats

With the Coliseum now officially opened, the first heavy rain of the season over and most of the City League coaches still insisting they are worse off than an oyster on ice skates, the high school teams will swing into action Friday in the first games of the 1923 season.

It is to be a two-cylinder opening, Los Angeles invading Franklin's domain and Jefferson entertaining the gang from Lincoln.

Reports from Los Angeles High would seem to indicate that the Pioneers are in for a lean season. Coach Herb White insists that he lost all of his team last year and that the other schools are due to have a soft time with his outfit.

Be that as it may, rumblings from the Wilshire district have not been so pessimistic. Last week the Pioneers romped all over Alhambra in a mere practice "tilt," and later went down to Santa Monica and gave that worthy organization a great battle for one half.

The Saints are thought by many to be the best high school organization in this neck of the woods.

Sum Tension is probably worse off than White. Franklin, last year's city championship winner, will have to get along without the services of a whole flock of veterans, most of whom are now doing it in the neck of the woods.

It is estimated 2000 Harvard undergraduates and 6000 graduates will be successful in obtaining two tickets for the Yale vs. Harvard football game at the Cambridge Stadium Saturday, November 24. The undergraduates come first.

Recent experiences with new arrivals caused Matchmaker Wadhams to place Young Fisher in the semi-wind-up against Speedy Sparks. Fisher wanted a main event, but was informed that he would have to show his stuff before getting a wind-up.

In sending him against Sparks the matchmaker has picked no easy spot for the newcomer. Sparks is an awkward Southpaw who can hit much harder than the average middleweight.

Kid Mohs and Larry Murphy, two of the most willing 150-pounders among the local boxers, will meet in the feature preliminary. Both are in the habit of slugging from bell to bell and as both are very tough they are little chance for the bout to end inside the limit.

Fred Murphy, a former A.A.U. champion and a matchmaker is matched with Young Perry at 145 pounds. Packy McCallin, a great card at both Vernon and Hollywood, is to be sent against Sammy Sanchez, also a slugger, in the third bout on the card. Alfred Ellis will meet Harry Ritzer at 145 pounds and Mushy Callahan, will meet in the featherweights, will meet in the curtain raiser.

SALVADORE TO BATTLE DICK HOPPE

Young Fisher and Sparks Box Semi-Wind-up in Ring at Vernon Tonight

After putting up two great bouts with Joe Benjamin and knocking out Bobby Ward, Phil Salvadore will step against local talent at Jack Doyle's Vernon coliseum tonight when he meets Dick Hoppe.

Hoppe has put up some great bouts at Vernon and Hollywood, but has never before been called upon to step in Salvadore's class. He has a lot of stuff and is entitled to his chance to show. If he can get as good as an even break in a good bout with Salvadore he will immediately become one of the big cards in the four-round sport.

Salvadore uncovered a surprising punch when he knocked out Ward a week ago and he has high hopes of stopping him tonight. If he turns the trick, Hoppe can still mingle with the Young Browns and Frankie McCanna.

Golfing Elite Will Compete in Invitational Affair

Dr. Paul Hunter's Entry is Rumored Around

MacBeth, Wright, Hunter, Armstrong Will Play

BY CHARLES WEST

The blue-bloods of Southern California's golfing population will be out in force Thursday when the Wilshire Country Club's annual invitational tournament gets underway with the eighteen-hole qualifying round, the entries of Fred Wright, Norman MacBeth, Betty Armstrong, Willie Hunter, and possibly Dr. Paul Hunter assuring a few cards that will approach par.

Although all of these men may not play through the tournament, MacBeth, Armstrong and Wright will undoubtedly fight it out in match play, while Clark Speirs, recently of Portland where he has held the Pacific Northwest championship, will figure prominently in the championship final.

Clark Speirs played a practice round on the puzzling Wilshire links yesterday and turned in the excellent score of 74 for his round, indicating that all golf courses are easy to figure out for the North-west demon.

Packy McCallin, a great card at both Vernon and Hollywood, is to be sent against Sammy Sanchez, also a slugger, in the third bout on the card. Alfred Ellis will meet Harry Ritzer at 145 pounds and Mushy Callahan, will meet in the featherweights, will meet in the curtain raiser.

Recent experiences with new arrivals caused Matchmaker Wadhams to place Young Fisher in the semi-wind-up against Speedy Sparks. Fisher wanted a main event, but was informed that he would have to show his stuff before getting a wind-up.

In sending him against Sparks the matchmaker has picked no easy spot for the newcomer. Sparks is an awkward Southpaw who can hit much harder than the average middleweight.

Kid Mohs and Larry Murphy, two of the most willing 150-pounders among the local boxers, will meet in the feature preliminary. Both are in the habit of slugging from bell to bell and as both are very tough they are little chance for the bout to end inside the limit.

Fred Murphy, a former A.A.U. champion and a matchmaker is matched with Young Perry at 145 pounds. ### JONES'S FORM PERFECT

Open Champion Has Swing Developed by Famous Professional, "Kiltie the King Maker"

Article II
BY O. R. KEELER

[Below is the second installment of a serial biography of the national open champion, whose career between the ages of 6 and 21 has astounded the golfing world. This is a life story of a youth, but interwoven in it is an exposition of many points in his game. This account of struggle and of the highest success among American golfers is written by a golf expert who has followed every stage of Bobby Jones's career from the beginning.]

It is more or less a burning question among several million golfers where Bobby Jones acquired that beautifully rhythmic swing that in the last few years has been held up all over the world as the glass of fashion in golf. Having seen the open champion as a little boy, plugging around a home-made golf course with a sawed-off cleek—a cleek, of all stubborn clubs—we must perform admit that so far as Bobby's infantile golfing swing is concerned he was utterly untutored and untrammelled at the time. He just swung. Nobody showed him anything about it.

If he saw any golfers playing, it was through the fence. His father was just about taking up golf at this time; that is, he was wondering if he, a former ball player, really were getting old enough to start golf. And Bobby, closing in on his sixth birthday in the mild southern winter time, continued until to swing as he played about the little, rugged, home-made course, and sometimes heard his father talking about this pestiferous "old man's game"—he finally took it up—and then about the East Lake Club grounds, where there was a cottage for rent right back of the thirteenth green that day.

And that move was accomplished, the next spring. Bobby then being 6 years old and a veteran of something like six months at the old man's game of golf. And here Bobby Jones, a fragile, tow-headed youngster, came into the spell of a certain, old, uncommunicative, golf-headed little Scotch professional golfer from the famous old golfing town of Carnoustie; Stewart Maiden, lately come to the club as successor to his brother Jimmy.

"Kiltie" Maiden, the members called him from the beginning, he was so thoroughly Caledonian. "Kiltie the King Maker" it is now, from the crowns that have been gained by his famous pupils, Bobby Jones, Miss Alexandra Stirling and Perry Adair. "Kiltie the King Maker," lacking the gift of gab as far as it can well be lacked but possessing a singularly fluent golfing swing and a peculiar ability almost without words to impart that swing, or at any rate its salient factors, to his pupils.

Now, Bobby Jones did not go at once to taking lessons of Stewart Maiden. There is doubt that he ever took any regular lessons at all. From Stewart he picked up a few things, certainly, but he had in abundance from Stewart as his game developed and rough spots appeared that needed attention. And to this day Stewart can look at Bobby Jones playing a few practice shots off the line a trifle and say, "That boy is a pro." But there is no room for doubt that Stewart was the foundation for his game. Stewart was the club professional, the great joy in the hearts of all the holders—except Judge Broyles, who never could see anything funny about it.

But Bobby's best imitation was always of Stewart Maiden. That did the trick for Bobby.

YANKS FAVORED BY ROWLAND TO WIN

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—"I pick the Yankees to beat the Giants in six games."

This predicted Clarence Rowland, manager of the world's champion White Sox of 1917, and now a member of the American League umpiring staff, on his arrival today to attend the world's series.

Billy Evans, one of the two American League arbiters charged to officiate in the series, declined to put himself on record on the outcome, but expressed his opinion that the Yankees' all-star twirling staff might be the deciding factor.

The Giants were good enough to beat the Reds, and I believe they can also take the Yankees into camp," said August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club.

SEVENTH INFANTRY POLO TEAM WINS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

VANCOUVER (Wash.) Oct. 8.—The polo four of the Seventh Infantry defeated the Portland team this afternoon on the Vancouver barabara oval, 23 to 6. Capt. K. E. Wise and Lieut. J. R. Simpson of the victors, each scored ten goals. The Seventh Infantry and the Tenth Field Artillery are now tied for first place in the Northwest polo championship tournament, each having won two games without being defeated.

YANKS TOUGHER FOE THIS YEAR

when the Giants were campaigning this summer, especially at times when they were combating the Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates. He undoubtedly will be right alongside of McGraw when the fighting begins next Wednesday and it may be that the Babe will have to deliver some superhuman socks to overcome his ingenuity.

Of course, the Old Man Strategy is not reserved to any team. He'll work for anyone who will employ him, but it seems there are some folks who just can't get along with him. The Miller Huggins in the series of last year and the year before, decided he did not need him. Possibly he thought his men were doing better than he was. But Huggins, a shrewd baseball man himself, has had a couple of severe lessons and may change his tactics this time.

In fact, there has been evidence throughout the season that his men have changed their style considerably. There is greater unity in the attack and the defense. The Yankees have kept their heads up. No one doubts that the Yankees have the man power to walk down the line and win the pennant. It is a matter of timing and if they can temper that with a bit of sharp wit they should be unbeatable.

The Yanks always have been with the leaders in the batting average and their fielding percentages have been quite acceptable. It was well for them that the ratings on the mentally displayed in the last two world series of not computed.

When the proud American League champions step onto the field to do battle with the strategic Giants they will be assisted by the power that was sadly lacking a year ago, and it might offset all the cunning that is expected of John McGraw and that one play important factor will be present.

There is no doubt harmony played a most important part in the season's achievements of Miller Huggins's athletes. A year ago the Yanks stumbled into a pennant. It was a fluke, carried through individual play. Every fellow was for himself. Each one tried to do his own thing and the opponent's 25 or 40-yard line is too short to permit a punt being used to advantage. It will usually roll over the goal line and the offense will receive the ball for first down on the 20-yard line. The offense might better take the chance of making first down when in this position, and if they fail, surrender the ball.

FOOTBALL INJURIES CAUSE MAN'S DEATH

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

AMES (Iowa) Oct. 8.—Jack Trice, negro tackle on the Iowa State College football team, died today of injuries in the game with Minnesota at Minneapolis Saturday.

KENTUCKY CENTER DEAD

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

LEXINGTON (Ky.) Oct. 8.—Price McLean, 50 years old, center of the University of Kentucky football team, died here last night from injuries received in Saturday's game with the University of Cincinnati, which team his eleven defeated there 14 to 0.

could be half explained by the absence of John Ray, a good general and a fine man on interference. Word, the big new center, looks good in every game. Caltech will be out in full force for the battle, and will introduce "Mug" Stein, a big 200-pound tackle who has seen only about five minutes' play this year. He starred with the team last season but was kept out of the U. S. C. clash with an injury. Stanton has been saving his strength for the clash with the line. The Poles will do well to gain anything much on off-tackle backs.

PALE HOSE AND CUBS READY FOR SERIES

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—A capacity crowd of 33,000 is assured for the opening game of the city series between the Cubs and White Sox, scheduled to start at the National League park Wednesday. The National League players, who won the classic last fall, are favored today by experts to win because of their superior pitching and heavier hitting. The club winning the series must take four out of seven games.

THE GREAT ESSENTIALS

There was hung up in the London Football Association of England, the governing council of soccer football in that country a few days ago a beautiful banner, a 20-foot long, 10-foot wide, which followed the great war.

LITTLE LESSONS IN Big Sports

On the fourth down, with two yards to go, under what condition should the ball be punted? When carried?

Answered by GILMOUR DOBIE

Coach of Football, Cornell University. His teams undefeated for two years. Coach, University of Washington, 1908-1916, during which nine years his teams were never defeated. Coach of Navy, 1917-19.

In close games, or when the opposition is spasmodically stubborn, it is well to kick on the fourth down with but two yards to gain whenever the ball is anywhere outside of the opponents' 40-yard line. In football every play is somewhat of a gamble. The opponents may stop only one play in ten short of the 3-yard gain and that one play may come just when two yards are needed for a fourth down.

The ball should be carried when inside the opponents' 35 or 40-yard line. The remaining distance to the goal line, when inside the opponent's 25 or 40-yard line is too short to permit a punt being used to advantage. It will usually roll over the goal line and the offense will receive the ball for first down on the 20-yard line. The offense might better take the chance of making first down when in this position, and if they fail, surrender the ball.

MURPHY STABLE IN FRONT

Features With Victories in Grand Circuit After Close Finishes

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

LEXINGTON (Ky.) Oct. 8.—Close finishes, split-heat contests and the success of the Murphy stable were the features of today's Grand Circuit card. Mrs. Yerkes won the Ashland and Merriam the Phoenix events both driven by Murphy, but not until after each had lost a heat. Merriam made a break in the first heat, which went to Johnny Quirk, but paced the next two in 2:01 1/4 each. Mrs. Yerkes won the Ashland event after trotting second to Bogatus, driven by Owner Candler in the opening heat. W. N. Reynolds, president of the Reynolds Tobacco Company, owner of Mrs. Yerkes, arrived in time to see his mare win. The 2:01 pace was unfinished, Murphy having a heat with Peter Etawah and Henry Thomas one with Miss Marie. The opening race, the 2:13 trot, was comparatively easy for The Consequence.

WEBB CLEARED, AVERS LAWYER

Says Dead Woman's Husband is Proved Innocent

Asserts He Would Gain if He Lost Will Fight

Grand Jury Continues Quiz Into Wife's Death

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.), Oct. 8.—Any suspicion which may have attached to Charles Webb, husband of Mrs. Gertrude Gorman Webb, has been "thoroughly blown up," Col. Howard Thayer Kingsbury, chief counsel for Mr. Webb, declared today before the grand jury investigating the circumstances surrounding Mrs. Webb's death at the Westchester-Biltmore County Club at Rye two weeks ago.

Col. Kingsbury declared newspaper explanations of the contest of Mrs. Webb's will, which left her entire estate to her husband, had failed to point out that Mr. Webb would benefit rather than lose if the contestants won their case.

THIRD WILL FILED
With the second will which is being contested, he said, Mr. Webb filed a third unsigned will and a statement sworn to by him where, by he promised to carry out the second will strictly in accordance with the extra provisions of the third will.

The second will, Col. Kingsbury said, left the entire estate to Mr. Webb, but the third made special bequests which reduced his share to about one-fourth of the entire estate.

Col. Kingsbury declared that if the contestants of the second will won their case and if the first will, which did not mention Mr. Webb, was accepted for probate, Webb would be entitled to half of the estate under a State law which provides that a husband is entitled to half his wife's estate if a will, not mentioning him, is made before her marriage.

WEBB TO FIGHT
"But," Col. Kingsbury declared, "Mr. Webb does not want to be beaten. What he wants to do, is to carry out the great public plan of his wife and to carry out the great memorial to her mother provided for in her will."

Dr. William J. Meyer, the physician who refused to sign Mrs. Webb's death certificate, on emerging from the grand jury room where he had been a witness for an hour and a half, said he had explained why he had excluded Mr. Webb from his wife's sick room.

"I reiterated to the grand jury," he said, "that neither I nor any other physician who had attended Mrs. Webb had at any time given her any mercury in any form. I also told them that none of us had administered any narcotic to her."

Dr. Alexander O. Goettler, toxicologist of Bellevue Hospital, who examined parts of the body, read to the jury. It was understood, he said, that some poison was found in the body, but not in sufficient quantity to cause death without contributory causes.

Dr. K. Sellars Kennard and Dr. T. A. Gonzalez, New York specialists, who performed the autopsy on Mrs. Webb's body, also were witnesses.

Immediately after Dr. Goettler finished his testimony in which he stated that sufficient poison was not found in her body to have caused death, the grand jury voted to continue its investigation. It was stated on the most reliable authority, and asked that Mr. Webb be called to testify Wednesday.

The jury, having heard those who believe that Mrs. Webb died of an unnatural death, it was said, now wants to get the other side of the case.

SEIZURE OF LAND ENDS IN MEXICO

Government Confiscation of Private Property Said to Have Succeeded

BY FREDERICK WRIGHT
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8.—The confiscation of private lands in Mexico has ceased. The usual reports of twelve to fifty confiscations of valuable parcels of large ranches are replaced with reports of the inactivity of the agrarian commissions of the various States. These expropriations have stopped even in Yucatan and Vera Cruz, the most radical of the Mexican States.

The national agrarian commission has not approved even the large number of confiscations already made as is required to do by law. There is considerable speculation as to the next move of the Mexican government. Will it pay for the land seized, or will it return the property to the owners who have been paying taxes on it?

Most prominent among the curious are the Mexican native landowners. Native Mexicans were the greatest sufferers under the wholesale confiscations made by the State agrarian commissions. Their condition was the more pitiable because they did not have not an independent government to intercede for them.

FOODSTUFF PRICES ALMOST STATIONARY

STATE PURCHASING AGENT FINDS SLIGHT DROP IN DRY GOODS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8.—Prices on foodstuffs for the State institutions for the last three months of 1923 are practically the same as those obtained for the last quarter, according to W. G. McMillin, State purchasing agent, who today announced the awarding of contracts for the new quarter's supply.

McMillin said that the prices of sugar and flour and some varieties of dried and canned fruits showed a decline, while meats and provisions increased slightly, about equalizing the price level. He explained that the slight changes are seasonal.

In the dry goods and fabric prices there was a very slight decline in the three months, the average being about 5 per cent. The price on leather remained practically the same.

ENGLAND MAY ACCEPT HUGHES LIQUOR PLAN

HOPE SEEN IN REPORTS OF PRESS ON TWELVE-MILE LIMIT PROPOSAL

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Expressions in British newspapers recently favorable to the acceptance by Great Britain of the twelve-mile limit treaty proposed by Secretary Hughes to curb liquor smuggling into the United States, has caught the attention of officials here. While hope is entertained that deliberations of the British Imperial conference will result in the decision to comply with Secretary Hughes's suggestion, it was emphasized today that no authoritative indication has been received that such action would be taken.

Additional data in support of the American treaty plan for dealing simultaneously with rum smuggling and the inconveniences occasioned British ships by enforcement of the Volstead Act have been laid before the British Foreign Office by Ambassador Harvey.

TRANSPORT ACT FACES CHANGES

Cummins Changes His Views on Consolidation

Railroad Labor Board Hard Hit by Opponents

Modification and Hands-Off Movements Meet

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH] WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Although a strong movement is under way throughout the country favoring a "hands-off" policy with regard to the Transportation Act at the next session of Congress, developments in the last week indicate that important changes in the law may be urged at the next session.

Probably the most outstanding development in the situation is that Senator Cummins of Iowa, chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, is rapidly reported to have changed his views as to compulsory consolidation of the railroads into a limited number of systems and also that while he still favors retention of the rate-making section of the law, he does not feel that it now is important to keep that section in the law.

The understanding is that Senator Cummins will introduce a bill providing for amendment of the Transportation Act so railroads may consolidate voluntarily, with the approval of the interstate commerce commission, and not in accordance with any fixed plan such as the commission is preparing at this time.

It appears that if the Transportation Act is opened up for revision the Railroad Labor Board will face hard sledding. The railroad brotherhoods opposed creation of the board and have consistently advocated its abolition since it was created. The executive committee of the American Federation of Labor advocated abolition of the board in the annual convention at Portland, Ore., and the National Industrial Traffic League, the largest shippers' organization in the country, has informed President Coolidge that the board should be abolished and resort made to a board of conciliation and mediation in the event the railroads and their employees reach a deadlock and threaten an interruption of transportation service.

The traffic league also urged an amendment of the law so that railroads could effect consolidations with the approval of the commission but not according to a fixed plan. This position is in line with the view now held by Senator Cummins. The Senator some time ago had intended introducing a bill providing for compulsory consolidation of the railroads.

The hearings held by the I.C.C. on its proposed plan has developed opposition in a number of commercial centers of the country which fear some of the consolidations proposed would work to their disadvantage. Another factor entering into the question of compulsory consolidation is the question of whether the Congress has the power to effect such a plan as prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission at the direction of Congress.

KINGSBURY IS GIVEN SENTENCE TO PRISON

NEW TRIAL DENIED TEMPE BANK PRESIDENT IN EMBEZZLEMENT CASE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH] PHOENIX, Oct. 8.—Late this afternoon, after extended argument by counsel over a motion for a new trial, W. J. Kingsbury received sentence of from four to five years in the penitentiary, after conviction on a charge of misapplication of funds of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Tempe, of which he was president and manager. The charge had reference to a transfer of $12,000 from the bank to the benefit of the Arizona Cattle Company, a Kingsbury organization. Notice of appeal was given.

Kingsbury has been in the County Jail for several weeks, under $50,000 bail he could not furnish. It is understood he will be taken to Florence in a few days. His cashier, Thornton Jones, has preceded him there, having pleaded guilty to destruction of bank records.

An all-day hearing has been in progress before the Arizona Corporation Commission over the application of the Tucson, Phoenix and Tidewater Railroad for a lease on the Phoenix and Eastern Railway right-of-way between Phoenix and Mesa. The hearing is expected to last three days.

Ysidro Sorio was killed in a brawl at Laven by Manuel Morales, who has surrendered, declaring the shooting accidental.

CRY OF EARTHQUAKE STAMPEDES LONDON

MANY PEOPLE TRAMPLED; HUNDREDS OF CAGED ANIMALS LOST

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Shouts of "Earthquake! Earthquake!" in a crowded street in the East End yesterday caused a stampede in which a number of people were trampled, hundreds of caged animals destroyed, and miscellaneous property ruined or stolen.

The scene of the disaster was the narrow Selator street, Bethnal Green, a noted center for the sale of animals for domestic pets.

Local traders say that an auction was in progress in the open street, when a band of toughs rushed into a throng of marketeers and spectators and yelled "Earthquake."

The crowd fled screaming while the stalls were overturned. The caged birds and animals and other property that fell in the path of the mob suffered severely, many of the creatures being trampled to death and many of the people falling among them to be trampled themselves.

The Daily Mail says sixty persons were injured, 1000 small caged birds were either killed or escaped, and 100 dogs and cats and scores of poultry were killed.

On Four-Wheel Brakes

There is little difference mechanically between two-wheel brake and four-wheel brake mechanisms.

Front-wheel brakes are merely added capacity, of conventional design. All four brakes are operated by the foot pedal.

The emergency brakes on rear wheels or transmission, operated by the hand lever, are retained in all four-wheel brake systems.

Controversy already exists between four-wheel brake advocates as to the relative merit of external or internal types of brake pressure on front wheels.

The duplication of parts, added weight, and increased friction of four-wheel brakes are common knowledge.

If four-wheel brakes were necessary, safe, and simple in operation, their existence would be justified, even with these impediments.

The factory makes proper adjustment of clearances between brake linings and drums.

After the factory ships the car, its responsibility ceases for brake adjustments, and the responsibility is shifted to the owner.

Electric starters, battery ignition, and vacuum tanks are acknowledged developments in the evolution of the automobile. They are built complete, encased in housings by the factory, are practically automatic and require few adjustments. Four-wheel brakes are in an entirely different category.

Numerous dealers and factory branch salesmen selling four-wheel brake cars, are already advising buyers that the front brakes may be disconnected, if they are not wanted. This would mean, of course, that the extra weight and impediments would be carried around uselessly.

Other front-wheel brakes are adjusted for such weak pressure that they cannot lock the front wheels, and the brakes are thus merely camouflage.

Four-wheel brakes will cause more trouble and accidents in a month than they will prevent in a year.

In fact, the Rolls-Royce Company states that "they show such decidedly dangerous disadvantages that they are considered unsafe to put in the hands of the general public, and are not nearly the equal of the powerful, efficient, lasting, and easily equalized brake design now employed in our design."

Four-wheel brakes have been a bone of contention in England since 1910, and yet today only 5 or 6 of the 150 odd English makes of cars use them at all. Several manufacturers use them as optional equipment, or furnish them on one of their models only.

Adherents of four-wheel brakes claim that they (1) permit quicker stopping and (2) prevent skidding. These are the only claims made for four-wheel brakes. With front-wheel brakes fully applied, quicker stopping is possible. This is not denied.

That quick stopping which locks the front wheels is an advantage, is vigorously denied. Such stopping is positively dangerous, because steering control is immediately lost.

The claim that four-wheel brakes prevent skidding and sliding is denied. No matter what kind of brakes are used, skidding will occur if wheels are locked before the momentum of the car is offset by the resistance of the road or pavement, whether dry or wet.

Skidding on wet pavements can be reduced to the minimum, with either two- or four-wheel brakes, only by slowing down speed and gentle brake pressure with clutch engaged.

Disadvantages of Four-Wheel Brakes

Against the only advantage (?) of four-wheel brakes, namely, quicker stopping, there are six serious disadvantages which make them mechanically impracticable, dangerous, uncomfortable, and expensive to owners, as follows:

1. Danger of Accidents. With permission, we quote from a recent circular of the Rolls-Royce Company to their dealers, upon which we cannot improve:

"Basically, the fault with front-wheel brakes lies in the danger of front-wheel skids, which are uncontrollable and consequently vastly more dangerous than a rear-wheel skid."

"It must be appreciated, first of all, that for their ability to steer the car the front wheels depend on their rolling motion. When front wheels cease to roll they lose all power to steer the car, which slides straight ahead on a flat road, or into the ditch if on a crowned or cambered road."

"When the brakes are used in an emergency it is of primary importance that the direction of the car should be under control; that is, that the car can be steered from the time that the brakes are applied until it is brought to a complete stop."

"When an obstacle suddenly presents itself (as in night driving) the driver's instinct is to immediately apply the brakes as hard as possible."

"If, under these conditions, the front wheels are suddenly locked, disaster may overtake the driver, through inability to control the car's direction, even though it may stop before meeting the obstacle."

"In traffic driving the ability to dodge—to control the direction of the car—is of almost equal importance with the ability to stop."

"On a wet or sprinkled city street, granting that the front-wheel brakes were perfectly equalized, the car would slide straight ahead unable to take advantage of traffic conditions, either right or left."

"If the brakes were not perfectly equalized, immediately the pressure was applied, the front wheels would take on a skid, which would be uncontrollable, in whichever direction the equalization of the brakes was faulty."

"In traffic driving, under most favorable conditions (perfectly equalized brakes and dry pavement) a sudden application of the brakes checks the car so precipitately that cars following have been known to crash into the car ahead, causing a rear end wreck through not having stopping room and time."

"It is, of course, obvious that front-wheel brakes present double the difficulty of keeping the brakes properly equalized."

"Aside from the above apparent defects in front or four-wheel braking, there is the stiffening effect on the steering to take into consideration when the brakes are applied, and the drag on the steering unless the braking effects on both wheels is absolutely equalized. This, of itself, constitutes a serious disadvantage reflected in the handling of the car."

2. Adjustments by Owner. Brakes must be properly adjusted, lubricated, and kept free from dirt, gravel, and foreign substances, to prevent unequal pressure of brakes and possible locking of front wheels. The burden of this responsibility rests on the owner, not on the factory.

3. Added Impediments and Lubrication. Four-wheel brakes double the number of parts in the braking mechanism, add about one hundred pounds of unsprung weight to the front end of the car, and create from twenty to thirty additional places (mostly inaccessible) requiring lubrication which must be applied by hand.

4. Decreased Car Efficiency. The added weight, extra parts, and increased friction resulting from four-wheel brakes decrease to some degree the efficiency of the car. Poorer acceleration, reduced hill-climbing ability, and increased gasoline consumption result.

5. Harder Steering and Control. The increase in unsprung weight, added parts, and friction necessarily increase the strength required to steer the car and to operate the brakes.

6. Expense of Maintenance. Extra service work in repairing, adjusting, and relining brakes puts the car in the shop oftener and increases the expense of maintenance.

Patent Situation

Four-wheel brakes have been in existence for about twenty years, during which time thousands of patents have been taken out in Europe and the United States, many of which have expired, and it is very doubtful if there are any basic patents preventing the use of four-wheel brakes.

European Experience

European manufacturers have experimented with four-wheel brakes for two decades. English manufacturers generally refuse to use them, although there are a few exceptions.

French manufacturers use them more generally, but many cars are equipped with "servo mechanisms," which are an added attachment intended to prevent locking of front wheels, insure equalization, ease the pedal pressure, etc., but this device introduces further complications of weight, lubrication and expense.

Trade Authorities

AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRIES—July 12, 1923

"In some cases the layout is such that the act of steering tends to release the front-wheel brake, rendering it less effective when the wheels are cramped. If, with this arrangement, steering is made harder, or the brakes less effective on a curve, or when the vehicle must make a sudden turn—as it must often do in an emergency—there is grave reason to doubt whether the braking is any safer with four- than with two-wheel brakes."

MOTOR WORLD—June 6, 1923

"If necessary precautions are not taken, skidding is liable to be more frequent and more serious than with rear brakes only."

Studebaker's Position

Studebaker research and engineering departments have been studying, experimenting with, and testing four-wheel brake mechanisms for two years.

These tests merely convince us that four-wheel brakes are unnecessary, mechanically impracticable, and dangerous in the hands of unskilled drivers.

The 1924 model Studebaker cars are equipped with brakes on the rear wheels only. The foot pedal operates the external contracting brakes and easily locks both wheels.

The hand lever operates the internal expanding brakes, and likewise locks the wheels easily.

The foot brakes are used in driving, and the hand brakes to hold the car still when parked on grades, also in emergencies, if necessary.

Studebaker brakes are safe, simple, and practicable. There are no more reliable brakes in use on any automobiles.

The 1924 model Studebaker cars are not, and will not be, equipped with four-wheel brakes

THREE POINTS OF INTEREST TO SINGERS

As an accompanying instrument the Gul-Brán—see Registering Piano is supreme.

1st. It is the only instrument playing with a music roll that makes possible the elimination of melody notes, playing the accompaniment only.

2nd. By simply turning a little knob, you can transpose the same piece to seven different keys.

3rd. With your finger's touch on a sensitive little tempo lever, you can retard or pause, at will, thereby allowing the liberties that singers of individuality demand.

Practical demonstrations, playing accompaniments to Victrola artists, given at any time.

Made in "Registering" as well as a Combination of Both Registering and Reproducing Models.

Special Outfits, $472.50 to $977.50.

French African Garrison Troop Is Massacred

LEY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS. DAKAR (French West Africa) Oct. 8.—The massacre of the garrison of a French post sixty miles north of Timbuctoo was revealed today. Armed natives with an estimated strength of 300 rifles surrounded the camp on September 29, last, during the absence of its commanding officer, who was away reconnoitering. After a seven-hour siege exterminated the garrison, consisting of sixty Senegalese soldiers and a native non-commissioned officer.

The French Governor of West Africa is organizing an expedition to proceed against the rebels.

Legionnaires from towns throughout the State are planning to visit the city and land rodeo here Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and then leave for the Coast.

THE TRUTH ABOUT GLANDS Physician Tells Why Vital Glands Properly Nourished are Necessary Dr. George Voronoff, an international authority on Organotherapy, has said: "The liver, the nerves, the muscles, as well as the liver, the kidneys and all the organs used for the purpose of playing, must be kept without the aid of the glands. The functioning of the glands is more than the activity of our glands, and when the bodily functioning is stunted, the children in most cases should be sought, not in the condition of the organs itself, but in the condition of the glands which control it."

Men and women who are weak, run-down and utterly exhausted both mentally and physically, should try to increase the activity of their glands. Science has prepared a gland treatment in simple compact tablet form—Glandex—which is a highly concentrated laboratory-tested gland compound containing the elements important glands of healthy young animals with other effective ingredients. Glandex is the original gland tonic, can be obtained at Henderson-Chambers Drug Co., Third and Main; Chambers Drug Co., Third and Broadway; Blaney-Chambers Drug Co., First and Los Angeles; in Long Beach at the Oakland Drug Co., 211 Pine Ave.; in San Pedro at the Beacon Drug Store;—Larchmont, ment.

He was habited in the conventional attire of an Indian Mohammedan, and his skin was brown, while the nearby Dyaks were yellow beneath the dirt. Jenks thought, from the manner in which he turned his head that he must be a Punjabi Mussulman—very likely an escaped convict from the Andamans.

The most careful scrutiny did not reveal any arms of precision. They were mostly bare-legged rascals, wearing Malay hats, loose jackets reaching to the knee, and sandals. One man differed essentially from the others. He was habited in the conventional attire of an Indian Mohammedan, and his skin was brown, while the nearby Dyaks were yellow beneath the dirt. Jenks thought, from the manner in which he turned his head that he must be a Punjabi Mussulman—very likely an escaped convict from the Andamans.

The most careful scrutiny did not reveal any arms of precision. They all carried musketeer-like, either antiquated flintlocks or guns sufficiently modern to be fitted with nipples for percussion caps.

Each Dyak, of course, sported a parang and dagger-like kris; a few bore spears and about a dozen carried a long, straight piece of bamboo. The nature of this implement the chief could not determine at the moment.

When the knowledge did come, it came so rapidly that he was saved from many hours of abiding dread, for one of the enormous-looking weapons was fraught with more quiet deadliness than a Gatling gun.

In the neighborhood of the first animated discussion took place. Though it was easy to see that the chief was all-potent, his fellow-tribesmen exercised a democratic right of free speech and outspoken criticism.

Flashing eyes and expressive hands were turned toward the speaker. Once when the debate grew warm, the chief snatched up a burning branch and held it over the head of one of the fire extinguished by Jenks.

He seemed to draw some definite conclusion from the chief's action, and the argument proceeded with less emphasis. However it was that he seemed to have carried conviction.

Iris, smiling close to the sailor, whispered: "Do you know what he has found out?"

"I only guess that he can tell by the appearance of the burnt wood how long it is since it was cut. Clearly they agree with him."

"Then they know we are still here?"

"Either here or gone within a few hours. In any case they will make a thorough search of the island at once."

"Will it be dawn soon?"

"Yes, are you tired?"

"A little, but that is all."

"Don't think I am foolish—can you manage to sleep?"

"Sleep? With those men so near?"

"If it will please you, I will try," she said, with such sweet readiness to obey his slightest wish that the sailor did not know her then and there. By previous instruction she knew exactly what to do. She crept quickly back until she was within the shelter of the hut and lay down.

The statement may sound strange to civilized ears, accustomed to the life of the tropics, but the Dyaks are not so different from the white man in their daily life and not so different from the white man in their habits and wild surroundings. But the soldier who has been in the tropics for a long time, and who has seen the Dyaks in their daily life and not so different from the white man in their habits and wild surroundings.

"Built Like a Skyscraper"

By Louis Tracy

They were mostly bare-legged rascals, wearing Malay hats, loose jackets reaching to the knee, and sandals. One man differed essentially from the others. He was habited in the conventional attire of an Indian Mohammedan, and his skin was brown, while the nearby Dyaks were yellow beneath the dirt. Jenks thought, from the manner in which he turned his head that he must be a Punjabi Mussulman—very likely an escaped convict from the Andamans.

The most careful scrutiny did not reveal any arms of precision. They all carried musketeer-like, either antiquated flintlocks or guns sufficiently modern to be fitted with nipples for percussion caps.

Each Dyak, of course, sported a parang and dagger-like kris; a few bore spears and about a dozen carried a long, straight piece of bamboo. The nature of this implement the chief could not determine at the moment.

When the knowledge did come, it came so rapidly that he was saved from many hours of abiding dread, for one of the enormous-looking weapons was fraught with more quiet deadliness than a Gatling gun.

In the neighborhood of the first animated discussion took place. Though it was easy to see that the chief was all-potent, his fellow-tribesmen exercised a democratic right of free speech and outspoken criticism.

Flashing eyes and expressive hands were turned toward the speaker. Once when the debate grew warm, the chief snatched up a burning branch and held it over the head of one of the fire extinguished by Jenks.

He seemed to draw some definite conclusion from the chief's action, and the argument proceeded with less emphasis. However it was that he seemed to have carried conviction.

Iris, smiling close to the sailor, whispered: "Do you know what he has found out?"

"I only guess that he can tell by the appearance of the burnt wood how long it is since it was cut. Clearly they agree with him."

"Then they know we are still here?"

"Either here or gone within a few hours. In any case they will make a thorough search of the island at once."

"Will it be dawn soon?"

"Yes, are you tired?"

"A little, but that is all."

"Don't think I am foolish—can you manage to sleep?"

"Sleep? With those men so near?"

"If it will please you, I will try," she said, with such sweet readiness to obey his slightest wish that the sailor did not know her then and there. By previous instruction she knew exactly what to do. She crept quickly back until she was within the shelter of the hut and lay down.

This OIL BOOKLET tells how, by "SPREADING YOUR RISKS," you share in the huge profits from oil

Mailed Free—postpaid

INVESTING in one well is a gamble. At most you have only a 50-50 chance. If you were able to split your investment—putting small portions of it in various oil properties in the three great fields of Southern California, the Law of Averages would work in your favor. 55 out of 100 wells in proven acreage in these fields produce oil in paying quantities. In other words, your single investment spread over 100 wells should have 55 chances out of 100 of being enormously successful! Five chances out of 100, yet the other 95 will be vastly profitable! How this plan is working out, how advantage is being taken of the present low prices of oil, and how this idea is already reaping rich returns for investors, are among interesting facts described in "The Oil Investor's Guide." A copy will be mailed to you free. No obligation on your part whatsoever.

$1,000,000 in Drilling Contracts

That's what we have RIGHT NOW in the great California oil fields, and we can sign up many more new contracts as fast as we can finance ourselves to handle the increased business. It's a cinch to make money in the oil business if you are on the drilling end of this mammoth industry. The driller takes HIS profits whether he drills a DRY HOLE or a GUSHER.

A new oil development era is at hand. Demand for drilling outfits should be bigger than ever. Oil production has reached its peak. With two new fields coming in, at Torrance and Compton, and renewed activities at Santa Fe Springs and Signal Hill, every string of tools in the Southland should be working overtime soon.

Public announcement has been made that one of the biggest oil companies will buy all the crude oil offered at market prices, and virtually all shut-in wells are being opened.

Get off of the GAMBLING end of the OIL GAME and into the business, PROFIT-TAKING branch of the OIL INDUSTRY. Get in where the PROFITS can be SURE, no matter what the driller finds at the BOTTOM of the HOLE. Get in now, TODAY, while the opportunity is open.

The Pacific Coast Drilling Company is selling to the investing public a limited number of shares of its capital stock. It needs increased capital to take care of increasing business. This money—YOUR money—goes to WORK for YOU immediately. Only 10,000 shares are being offered for public subscription. Purchasers of this stock receive ALL the PROFITS until 50% of their money has been returned in DIVIDENDS.

CAPITALIZATION $1,000,000. NO PROMOTION. 40,000 shares, par value $25 each. 10,000 shares of capital stock were used to take over a going concern with eight rotary drilling outfits and net assets valued close to $250,000, exclusive of $1,000,000 in drilling contracts. Owners of this stock do not share in any of the PROFITS until 50% in DIVIDENDS is paid to investors that buy the 10,000 shares now on sale. The remaining 20,000 shares will be kept in the treasury until more capital is desired for handling increased business.

REMEMBER—Oil Well or Duster, the Driller gets HIS Profits. Shares are $25 each while they last. Come in TODAY and get YOURS. Let us prove to you where the REAL PROFITS are in the Oil Industry.

Child's retirement was at his own request and that announcement here of his purpose was in no circumstances to be construed as indicating any dissatisfaction with his work in Rome.

In view of the doubt entertained here as to when the Ambassador would determine to surrender his post, it was thought likely that the question of selection of his successor would be given more than passing consideration for the present.

NEW CHARTER TO DIVORCE FINANCES AND POLITICS

Freeholders' Proposed Amendment Would Establish Budget System for City

The cost of municipal government in Los Angeles, under provisions of a proposed charter amendment adopted by a board of freeholders last night, is taken out of the realm of political manipulation and placed on a budget basis similar to that of the state and the recently enacted State law of California.

Responsibility for the management of the city government will be placed on the Mayor and the board of freeholders, who will be empowered to make the budget and to appropriate the funds for the city government. The amendment also provides for the election of a board of freeholders to represent the people of the city.

FLAMES STRIKE PANIC TO STOCK

Seven Firemen Are Hurt in Vernon Hay-Barn Blaze

Terrorized Cattle Calmed by Amateur Cowboys

Loss of $150,000 Estimate of Damage Done

Members of two companies of city firemen and volunteer cowboys from Laguna and Belvedere turned themselves into cowboys last night when fire swept through the huge hay-filled barn of the Globe Mills Feed Yard, near the Union Stockyards, at Twenty-sixth street and Downey Road, Vernon, terrorizing hundreds of cattle into a near-stampede.

Ten thousand tons of hay were destroyed in the blaze and with no water to fight the fire, firemen turned their attention to corralling the cattle and let the fire burn itself out. They hustled themselves with getting the cattle to safety and with tearing down building adjoining the hay barn to prevent the spread of the flames. Seven firemen from Laguna and Belvedere were slightly hurt in this work, suffering from minor burns.

James Brown of Belvedere, and Leut. William Shoemaker, Walter Carr, James Skinner, Edward Callahan, John Comby and Edward Zacherly of Laguna.

The hay made an enormous spectacular fire, which lighted up the sky for miles and drew crowds of curious from all directions. Automobiles blocked all the roads. There were 10,000 tons of hay in the barn, which was 50 by 100 feet in size and filled to the roof. What caused the fire is not known, but it was only a few minutes after it was discovered that the whole mass of hay was ablaze and flames were leaping hundreds of feet in the air.

In the corral of the feed yard and in fourteen sheds adjoining the barn were many cattle, placed there for feeding and fattening before going to the stockyards for sale. The fire terrorized the lives to drive the animals into pens far enough away to be safe from the flames.

TRANSFORMER BLOWS OUT To add to the confusion, a 15,000 volt transformer of the Southern California Edison Company situated near the burning barn, blew out with a loud report soon after the fire started, leading to the circulation of a rumor that there were explosives in the burning hay and making firemen fearful.

Mrs. Bradley was arrested at the time her husband was taken, but released for lack of evidence.

Mysteriously attacked and standing in front of his grocery store at 1760 East Main street, Victor Chaney reported to Sheriff Traylor that some one had shot at him. Chaney stated that the bullet was fired from behind a box car in the railroad yards and that the shot passed close to him and shattered a mirror at his back.

An investigation of the affair is being made by deputy sheriffs. Chaney said he knew of no enemies who would seek to harm him.

Chief Vollmer minced no words in discussing jail conditions in the city.

SIXTY FACE NEW OIL FRAUD QUIZ

Scope of Investigation of Swindlers Widens

Grand Jury to Make First Report Tomorrow

Indictments Are Prepared Against Promoters

An indication of the extent of the alleged fraudulent oil land promoters in this city and vicinity is shown by the fact that there are at present more than sixty cases demanding the attention of the postoffice inspectors. These are in addition to the score of more on which reports by the Federal grand jury are expected tomorrow.

Federal agents were busy yesterday preparing the indictments, in cases where indictments have been voted by the investigating body.

David V. Cahill, special representative of Atty-Gen. Daugherty, who is at the head of the local inquiry, after the report of the Federal grand jury will leave for the East, where he is to be engaged on an important case, but at its conclusion he will resume his work here. His assistants, Nichols and Norcup, will remain here and prepare other cases for the consideration of the grand jury.

As the present body has become familiar with the line and outs of the local oil game, it is intended to bring individuals and corporations to their attention during the life of the inquiry, which will run until the middle of January next. It is the intention to present the cases just as fast as the testimony can be obtained. The jury, therefore, may be considered a standing body of investigation.

EVIDENCE LACKING The investigators are eager to get all the information they can concerning the alleged illegal operations of oil promoters and salesmen in this city and vicinity, but the victims of the frauds do not seem to understand the importance of the information to have a case if it is necessary to use the use of the mails be shown. Other cases of fraud growing out of oil-land inquiries, are a subject for State prosecution. The use of the mails is the only thing for which the government can prosecute.

It is the intention of Special Prosecutor Cahill to ask for all the information that can be obtained from the victims of the frauds, and to use the same in the prosecution of the cases.

WHY BOND ISSUE SHOULD CARRY

Mulholland Drive Will Be Benefit to All Citizens of Community

The proposed $1,000,000 bond issue for Mulholland Drive should carry at the special election today because:

It will open a territory so far practically inaccessible. It will give Southern California one of the most magnificent scenic highways in the world, affording a sweeping view of ocean, mountains and valleys. It will enhance property values and benefit all.

It will insure city water on the higher levels of the Santa Monica Mountains. The polling places at 1204 1/2 Ventura boulevard, Lindley avenue and Ventura boulevard and Laurel Canyon Road will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m.

CRIME BODY TO ENLARGE WORK

Commission to Employ More Investigators

Daily Check to be Kept on Court Departments

Speed Planned in Disposing of Law Violators

In a further effort to expedite the handling of criminal cases and to eliminate generally the backlog in legal machinery, activities of the Los Angeles Crime Commission are to be greatly enlarged. It was announced yesterday by Raymond F. Turney, director of the commission.

The number of investigators employed by the commission is to be enlarged to any point deemed necessary by the director. These will proceed to make a detailed daily check of all criminal departments of Superior Court and the disposition of cases in these courts will be thoroughly analyzed with a view of increasing their efficiency. Justice courts and police courts will be "covered" in a similar manner. Like attention also will be given to the district attorney's office, the sheriff's office and other important law-enforcement agencies.

DATA TO BE CHECKED In this way it is hoped to obtain the data which will show definitely which courts are doing their work, and which are "falling down." The figures also are expected to show whether there has been an improvement in comparison with conditions law-enforced by a recent survey made by the commission and covering Justice and Superior courts for the three months from March 1, last, to June 3, last.

A fifth department of Superior Court, he pointed out, has been set aside recently for the trial of criminal cases. The judges presiding in the criminal departments have united in a declaration that they will make every effort to bring criminals to trial thirty days after the asserted commission of the crime.

PROBATION TO BE HIT They also have pledged to eliminate unnecessary probationers and to see that the practice of granting indiscriminate probations is discontinued.

A similar pledge has been made by the District Attorney's office and the county grand jury. Mr. Turney said, and with their aid it is hoped to facilitate trials in a scheme to defraud.

Forebodings of disaster to the tanker Swiftwind between here and Panama increased yesterday, when efforts to locate the oil ship by harbor agents again proved futile. She sailed from Los Angeles for Fall River, Mass., on September 4, with 70,000 barrels of crude oil and a crew of thirty-two aboard.

According to all local reports she never has passed through the Panama Canal, although she should have reached her eastern port in twenty-one days.

It is possible the S.O.S. calls heard faintly by ships 1000 miles south on the 6th inst., but never located, might be from the Swiftwind, helpless, blown off her course and wallowing at the mercy of the sea. Shipping men, however, believe her fate has been sealed longer ago, the details of which may never be written.

The Swiftwind is a sister ship of the Swiftstar whose wreckage off Caribbean shores two months ago indicated an explosion at sea with all hands lost. Both were of peculiar construction, of which seven ships were built at Portland, Or., two years ago.

The Swiftwind was owned by the Swiftstar Oil Company of New York, but operated the last year between this port and the Atlantic coast by the C. G. Mallory Company, for which McCormick, McPherson & Co. are agents at this port. She was 5000 tons net, forty-six feet long, sixty feet beam and twenty-six and seven-tenths feet draft.

CHIEF HITS JAIL CONDITIONS

Vollmer Says 750 Occupy Cells at Lincoln Heights Meant for 250; Pleads for Youths

With a straight-from-the-shoulder declaration that conditions in Lincoln Heights jail are "vicious and terrible," Chief of Police Vollmer in an address before the Municipal League last night called on the people of Los Angeles to arouse themselves and remedy conditions.

Chief Vollmer minced no words in discussing jail conditions in the city.

"Putting men in jail as we do in Los Angeles," meaning the young with the old habits, criminals, the pervers and others, is nothing short of criminal," Chief Vollmer declared. "As a result of this practice, the young potential criminal who is held in jail for a time comes out pledged to do society a wrong. The conditions in the Lincoln Heights jail are shocking—they are vicious and terrible."

"I am not exaggerating it when I tell you that the prisoners out there are so crowded that in many of the cells if all prisoners wanted to sit down at one time there would be no room for them. They are herded like cattle in cars. In my opinion, a conservative estimate of the capacity of that jail is about 250 men, and yet there are 750 men housed there today. And before winter is over we are going to have to put another 750 men in there."

Love for Theatrical Man Revealed in Notes Left by Poison Victim at Hollywood

Death rather than life without the man to whom she had given her love was the choice made either late Thursday night or early Friday morning by Emlye Glover, 30 years of age, an actress on the legitimate stage.

The tragic love affair was disclosed yesterday afternoon with the discovery of the woman's body in her apartment at 7058 1/2 Hollywood boulevard, Hollywood. A bottle of carbolic acid, almost empty, found near the body indicated the manner of the heartbroken woman's passing.

Blair Coan of Chicago, head of the Blair Coan Production Company, is the man for love of whom the actress died, according to several notes she left. It would be such a comfort to me that you are with me. I wish they would sing 'Lord Kindly Light' and 'Agony'. Services to be held in Presbyterian Church.

1881 and 1923

The first issues of the Los Angeles Times, December 4, 1881, contained three Want Ads. During the first month, a total of 157 were printed. Los Angeles at this time had a population of 11,311.

Los Angeles' population today is estimated at 250,000, or approximately eighty times as large as in 1881, while the Times now regularly prints more Want Ads than any other newspaper in the world. During the month of September, 1923, Times Want Ads aggregated 127,350, or nearly nine hundred times as many as during the first month of its existence.

Tune-Town Man Scores With
Tunny Happenings
Voices and Instruments Add to Night's Delights

BY K. G. ORRINGTON
The vibrant antenna wires, mounted high above The Times building, were danced, talked and sighed for more than six hours yesterday, happy in their task of carrying out to all Radioland much of the night and entertainers.
No sound, however, that there was some danger of the antenna wires being to the syncopated rhythms of "Chuck" Erbe's Orchestra of Alhambra. This aggregation of jazz artists is managed by A. J. Johnson, and includes "Chuck" Erbe, pianist,
Johnny Kelly, trumpet, Newell
Violante, Ted Asadoorian, and Jack Johnson, drums.
The orchestra was featured on the evening program, which was conducted and presented by Jim
Hickman, secretary of the Alhambra Theater. The program, "Martinez," by Robert F. Kennedy, "Havana,
Cuba Up," and "Farewell to the Tropics" were included in the popular program presented by Chuck Erbe's Orchestra. All listeners experienced a lively feeling in the city of the pedal extremities, and the Times telephone switchboard was busy with requests as a result of Uncle John's not being present.

STANDARD PLEASURES
John Carlson, a soprano, possessing a voice of clear and sweet tones, favored Radioland with songs from "Rigoletto," "You Don't Know What You Are Missing"
by Albert Reiss, and a Swedish song, "When I Was Seventeen."
Al Radioland laughed over the happenings in Alhambra as it related in a most entertaining and humorous manner by the artist. Another prominent feature was a man who contributed to the success of the program. Mr. Keeler sang, and he acted as he sang, and we all sang with him. To further entertain the audience, he wrote the lyrics, and named it
"The Day After Tomorrow."
The song was also nicely rendered by the artist, and should certainly bring fame to the town of Radioland.
Listeners with a song
composition, "My Own Home Town in Ireland," by Solman, and "Preguitate a la Estrella," by Kiley and Hague. This last number was sung in Spanish.
The lady and lassies had as their guests two little juveniles,
Lois Billee and Yvonne Eckert.
These young ladies are both pupils of the piano. Lois is only 13 years of age and Yvonne is 9. Both displayed considerable promise at the piano.
John P. Ogle entertained the lady and lassies with baritone solos,
and they were finally put to sleep
with a bedtime story.

FUQUA SEES REVOLUTION IN OIL GAME
Operator Says Drop in Gas Pressure Will Eliminate Many Independents

A radical change in the status of the oil industry in Southern California in the not far distant future is predicted by I. W. Fuqua, president of the Petroleum Midway Company, Ltd., which, with its affiliated corporations, controls large petroleum interests throughout the State.
Present operation is assisted by reason of high gas pressures obtained in Southern California fields, Mr. Fuqua pointed out, but he declared that these high pressures will exhaust themselves in due time and that then oil production will become a matter of mechanical equipment and mechanical efficiency.
"At the present time oil production in the southern fields is not profitable to the large operator," asserted Mr. Fuqua. "At the current price of petroleum, forced by the overproduction resulting from the entry of vast numbers of small production companies, the large corporation with its vast cost of operation, due to its prospecting and wildcatting activities, cannot make a profit."
"The little fellow with his one or two wells has no such overhead costs, and if he is fortunate enough to escape mechanical trouble in drilling and operating his wells—which he may well do with such a small number—he can market his product at a profit. But the large concern with its hundreds of wells, many of which are continually in trouble, is not so favorably situated."

"But when the period of high gas pressure in the southern fields is past, the era of mechanical operation of oil wells, on a scale, and to a degree never before experienced in California, will be inaugurated. Then the 'little fellow' will be confronted with the problem of spending thousands of dollars on his wells, with spending other thousands of dollars on new pumping equipment and other machinery with the prospect even then of not developing a production equal to that which he now enjoys."

"The natural result will be the elimination of many of the smaller independent companies. The larger corporations, with the ability to finance such expensive improvements, will be called upon to save the day. California will then see wells pumped from deep depths have never been attempted in the history of the State, and the industry will assume a status altogether different from the present situation."
"This change will not be detrimental to the industry as a whole, but it will mean that development, operation, maintenance and marketing will be conducted on a basis totally different from that now in use."

Bootlegger Will be Interrogated on Dolley Plot
When the bootlegger, reputed to have attempted to raise a large sum to be paid a gunman to murder H. H. Dolley, chief Federal prohibition agent of the State, appears in Federal Court next week to enter a plea he will be subjected to a severe grilling, according to reports at the prohibition offices yesterday.
At a convocation of bootleggers last week the leader of one of the bands broken up by Dolley's agents tossed a roll of bank-notes on a table with the statement that Dolley was too dangerous and must be made away with.
Agent Dolley evidenced small regard for the threat against his life, stating that he had been warned of several attempts in the past on the part of disgruntled rum-runners.

"He told me he was going out that evening to attend a meeting of the Women's union," she said, "and I called up the union and found there wasn't going to be any meeting. I then went to a corner where I suspected he would meet somebody, and sure enough, there they were. He got on a street car with her. I got on too, and asked him what he meant. And I asked her who she meant, too. There was quite a fuss. I can tell you. Everybody laughed at us."

How to Run Our Capital

In the economic field the biggest problem for the British is the one of having American trade and capital from the dominions. Our tremendous industrial organization in Canada, Australia, India and South Africa. Despite the fact that we can send goods which will undersell the output of British factories in many lines. We also can market for raw materials.

The dominions hold a grievance because the present preferential system gives advantage to the British throughout the empire, while the British farmers and manufacturers have seen to it that the dominions get little advantage from their raw materials in the home market. They are demanding concessions which the London financiers will have much difficulty in granting.

Feeling over the American tariff will have much influence in helping an agreement in this matter. The invasion of the empire by American capital will be a far harder problem to solve.

opened the door wide for the invasion and Australia and Ireland are following her example. They have chartered corporations, turned her American and these corporations have the same right as British concerns to trade in the empire and take advantage of imperial preferences.

All the great American industries and organizations are taking advantage of this condition.

The British manufacturers want that sort of thing stopped. Their products are barred from the empire by high tariffs and they have to meet our competition on equal terms. But can the process be stopped? Canada would not agree to industrial concessions if she attempted to undo what has been done. Too many of her people are employed in American-owned concerns. And the other states are anxious to have the benefits she has enjoyed from the process. They are eager for American investments.

Remuneration Over Debts

One factor, however, is being used most skillfully with the dominions (as it is used elsewhere) to lessen friendship for us. It is again made evident that we are usual to cancel the debts owed us by the nations by whose aid we fought in the great struggle.

It is a settlement of the question. There is no doubt of the correctness of this assertion. If we wiped out these debts reparations could be fixed at a total which many would agree to pay. It is the restoration of Europe would only begin. Whether that would be the wisest course for us and others in the end is another question. And the other states are anxious to have the benefits she has enjoyed from the process. They are eager for American investments.

"LOVE PIRATE" IS WANTED

Harry Roshon, Asserted Husband of Six Women to Face Bigamy Charge in Spokane

Harry R. Roshon, asserted "love pirate" who liked the role of bridegroom so well that he is said by police to have appeared in it six times in less than two years, will soon exchange the cell he is occupying at the City Jail for another at Spokane, Wash.

A wife received by the police yesterday from Sheriff Harry C. Clark of Spokane stated that papers for Roshon's extradition to that city are being prepared and that an officer will be sent here soon to take the prisoner back.

KEPT PROSPECT LISTS Roshon had proved somewhat of a "white elephant" on the hands of local police for several weeks. He was arrested about a month ago and a short time later he said to have confessed to having married six women in various sections of the country in about two years. In his possession at the time of his arrest were found hundreds of letters from women and lists containing the names of many Los Angeles women with the amount of money each possessed.

Notification of Roshon's arrest was immediately forwarded by local authorities to police in the various towns and cities where he is said to have married. In no case, however, was an indictment forthcoming and local police were consequently at sea as to what action to take. The telegram from Spokane yesterday settled their problem.

BIGAMY CHARGE Roshon was arrested yesterday by Sheriff Harry C. Clark of Spokane on a charge of bigamy in marrying Alma E. Snyder. At the time of his marriage to Miss Snyder he is said to have given the name of W. A. Allen.

It also appeared yesterday that at least one of Roshon's six asserted wives had taken action to free herself. She is Mary S. Rousch of Des Moines, a former domestic science teacher in one of the high schools of that city. She has filed suit for annulment of her marriage, according to advice from Des Moines.

Another witness testified to an asserted admission by Mrs. Smith that her husband was testifying for Smith.

"Your Honor, I couldn't describe it," he replied. "She was an expert. It was impossible to remember all that she said. I shook my head sadly. 'It was impossible to remember it. She would win over any lumberjack that ever lived.'"

DR. MURPHY RITES SET FOR TODAY

County Hospital Staff Member to be Cremated After Services

Funeral services for Dr. William R. Murphy, a member of the staff of the County Hospital and formerly a well-known school superintendent in Southern California, who died Sunday at 7 a.m. of heart disease at his home, 215 North Avenue Sixty-three, will be conducted today at 3 p.m. from the parlors of Arthur Cress, 8880 Pasadena avenue. The body will then be cremated.

Dr. Murphy was a native of Indiana, but came to California in 1901, where he became Superintendent of Schools at Tulare and Pomona. In 1914 he decided to take up the study of medicine, so he moved to Los Angeles and entered the school of medicine of the University of Southern California. He was graduated from this institution in 1918 and soon afterward became attached to the staff of the County Hospital. At the time of his death he was also connected with the Johnson clinic. Besides his widow, Isabel Murphy, the physician leaves three daughters, Mrs. Rosemond Kennedy and Wilma and Katherine Murphy, of Los Angeles, and two brothers, Martin W. Murphy of Laurel Springs, N. J., and Charles Murphy of Rensselaer, Ind.

WATER DEBATE HEARD AT CLUB

Volney Craig Tells Women of Farmers' Problems

Engineer Bailey Denies Land is Being Cheated

Moody Questions Statistics on San Fernando

BY MYRA NYE

Hotter and hotter waxed the verbal battle before the Woman's City Club yesterday until it appeared as though all the water of the Owens River Valley, let alone that wanted to make power for the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light would be needed to stop the flames.

It was a debate on "The San Fernando Water Question" with Mr. Volney Craig speaking for the people of San Fernando as an advocate of the water department, and Mr. Bailey, engineer for the Los Angeles water department, speaking for the Board of Public Service.

Mr. Bailey, also, was present. He was not on the program as a speaker, but he answered one of the questions of a member from the floor as to the rate San Fernando farmers pay for water as compared to other agricultural districts south of the Tehachas.

Mr. Bailey said he would not give statistics because of a suit pending in the courts which was brought against the Los Angeles water department. But he stated that San Fernando had more water than last year at a reasonable rate and that San Fernando used more water than Los Angeles.

"You are not complaining, why should San Fernando?" he asked his audience. The question apparently aroused Mr. Craig, who demanded to know if rates and amounts for domestic water could be fairly compared with rates and amounts for irrigating fruit ranches.

"In May," said Mr. Bailey, "we began to estimate how much water we can waste to create power. San Fernando was not in the city when we voted, and we voted for power, not for irrigation."

Mr. Craig received much applause throughout the debate and many questions were asked by the women.

Diphtheria death rate of last year among insured wage-earners was the lowest in the past eleven years.

WILL ERECT HIGH SCHOOL San Bernardino to Have $300,000 Bond Election for Building to Replace One Damaged

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 8.—Calling of a $300,000 bond election to erect a new Junior High School to replace the old structure damaged by the temblor in July, was announced today by the Board of Education.

The decision for a bond issue was reached at a mass meeting last night of residents of the San Bernardino high school district, including Rialto, Highland and Del Rosa communities. It has been proposed to erect branch institutions in Rialto and Highland, districts annexed last year to the high school district over the protest of taxpayers, who opposed consolidation because of the lack of representation on the governing board.

The Board of Education contemplates the erection of a forty-room structure at Eighth and E streets in San Bernardino, the site of the damaged and condemned building. Hundreds of students are now, forced to occupy classrooms in the elementary school in Rialto, the new structure to be erected, if the bond issue is approved by voters, will be of concrete, on modern plans. Hundreds of citizens last night pledged support to the bond issue.

DEFENDANTS END CASE IN FIGHT FOR VINEYARD

CHATEAU RICARDO PROPERTY VALUED AT $150,000 BY WITNESS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN JOSE, Oct. 8.—Trial of the possession suit involving the Chateau Ricardo 2100-acre vineyard in which Francis J. Heney, Los Angeles attorney, seeks to oust his brother's widow, Mrs. Mary A. Heney, and her son, Edwin, today entered its third week.

The defendants rested their case before noon and Superior Judge F. B. Brown, adjourned court to give the plaintiff an opportunity to have his witnesses present this afternoon.

Under a ruling by Judge Brown, the defendants were required to submit evidence in support of their defense of fraud on the part of the plaintiff, Francis J. Heney, before the question of the right of possession could be heard. The defendants alleged that in acquiring title on foreclosure sale, the plaintiff, who had acted as their attorney for many years, had purchased it for their use and thereafter fraudulently claimed it as his own.

Expert testimony on the value of the vineyard marked the closing of the case. The defendant, Christman, real estate operator at Cupertino, testified that the value of the vineyard was $150,000. When court convened for the afternoon, Judge Brown granted an application of the plaintiff for continuance until tomorrow morning.

BOY HUNTER KILLED Youth Dies When His Shotgun Is Discharged by Accident

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
RIVERSIDE, Oct. 8.—The first fatal hunting accident of the season occurred in Riverside county Sunday when Donald Van Patten, 15 years of age, of Van Nuys, was killed at Elsinore. The boy, who was the son of F. S. Van Patten, Van Nuys rancher, was getting out of an automobile and is believed to have struck the shotgun, which was hanging from the side of the car. An inquest was conducted this morning by Coroner C. S. Dickson. Burial will be in Santa Ana tomorrow.

GRAFT CHARGES BRANDED FALSE

Defense Begins Argument in Fresno Official's Case

License Collector is Accused by Dillon's Counsel

Asserted Loose Methods in City Business Told

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
FRESNO, Oct. 8.—"False as hell," so Carl E. Lindsay, counsel for City Commissioner of Finance Charles Dillon, today in his opening statement to the jury characterized the charges of falsification of public records, on which Dillon is being tried.

Lindsay indicated that Dillon's defense will be that the falsification of public records was a necessary evil to bring about the grand encampment of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at Pomona this week, indications were that the city would be host to about twice the number that had been expected.

Preparations to receive approximately 1000 visitors had been made by the committee in charge and now over 2000 are expected. Accommodations for the delegates and others have been arranged for in hotels and scores of private homes throughout the city in addition to the 100 tents that have been pitched at "Camp Kornbeek" in Ganesha Park. About 500 of the patriarchs militant will make their camps at the park including most of the grand officials of the State, including Major-General C. H. Kornbeek and Grand Patriarch R. C. Clark.

Members of the order from near by cities such as Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Pasadena and Ontario arrived here early today to help finish the Pomona brothers put on the finishing touches preparatory to the program of the week.

Redlands Man Chosen Head of Forensic Body

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
REDLANDS, Oct. 8.—Prof. F. R. Nichols, debate coach of the University of Redlands, was elected president of the Southern California Intercollegiate Public Speaking Association at a meeting just concluded. The conference includes Redlands, Pomona, Occidental, University of Southern California, Whittier, California Institute of Technology and Southern Branch University. Nichols, who was one of the leaders in organizing the conference last year, was elected secretary and treasurer.

The first forensic event on the calendar is an extempore contest, November 22. The topic is to be "The agrarian situation."

This year's debate subject is: "Resolved, that Congress should have power to nullify decisions of the Supreme Court by reenacting legislation declared unconstitutional." The first debate of the season comes February 6.

The oratorical contest takes place in April.

Shooting Laid to Triangular Love Quarrel

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
POMONA, Oct. 8.—What is said by police to have been a triangular fight over the love of a girl, resulted in the shooting of Ramon Leon of Laverne at that place last night. The shooting took place near a small house in the rear of John Flores's residence on Detroit. Leon is married but is said to have been keeping company with the girl in the absence of his wife. This is said to have aroused two of the men who were friendly with the girl.

The names of these two men have been withheld pending a more thorough investigation. Leon was taken to Pomona Valley Hospital where it was found that the bullet hit his right hand between the thumb and first finger, then passed through his right lung.

Leon was arrested a year ago on a charge of selling liquor and his wife is now in the County Hospital.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
REDLANDS, Oct. 8.—Francis M. Winn, ten years a resident of this city and active in civic work and in the First Baptist Church here, died at the hospital yesterday after an illness of about a week. He was operated on several days ago.

Mr. Winn was 76 years of age. He was born in Hartsville, Tenn., and lived in that State until he came to Redlands. He was a member of the Confederate army and fought through the war as a sharpshooter. He leaves a wife who is seriously ill, and fourteen children, all living in California. They are Walter, Mrs. Barbara; Stewart A. and E. R. of Oil Center; J. A. Arthur and Al W. of Los Angeles; Goldust Harold Lineau, Herman and Harold Winn of this city.

WOMAN ROUTS BURGLAR EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

VENTURA, Oct. 8.—Burglars probably will be careful around Hakebaker's Grocery, at the corner of Meta and Spruce streets, in the future. Mrs. Hakebaker heard some one working at the rear lock late last night while she and Mr. Hakebaker were busy in the store. Without any preliminaries she picked up a gun and shot through the back door. The burglar ran.

DESERTED BY WIFE OF HOUR Needles Man Asks Divorce From His Mate He Asserts Married Him to Spite Another Lover

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 8.—With the words of the judge "Love, honor and obey," still ringing in his ears, Montague H. Ellis, a Needles railway employee, was deserted by his bride, Olga E. Ellis, in less than an hour after the ceremony last August, he declared in a suit for divorce filed in the Superior Court today.

And Ellis was a party to the marriage because of a whim of his bride to "spite another lover," he recited. Ellis's story of his romance, with his poignant disappointment, is told in a few words in the complaint. They were married by Justice C. H. Marks at Needles. Ellis left his wife at the railway station while he sought an apartment. Successful in his quest for a home for his bride, he returned in less than an hour. But she had fled.

Ellis did not meet her again until last month, he states, and then only by accident at the beach. She told him, he asserts, that she married him to spite another lover.

Ellis states, he learned she boarded a train at the station and was going to a home in Fresno where she met still another lover, not the one with whom she was wedded. He charged that his bride is now living with the Fresno lover and asks that his matrimonial ties be dissolved.

CHARIVARI CELEBRANT DROPS DEAD

Anaheim Woman Victim of Heart Attack in Heated Excitement of Party

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ANAHEIM, Oct. 8.—Miss Norma Schindler, 25-year-old daughter of Mrs. Henrietta Schindler of this city, dropped dead while participating in a charivari at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Matter in Maywood.

News of her death was brought to this city today by members of the party who accompanied Miss Schindler to the home of the newlyweds where they had planned a surprise house warming.

Sitting in one of the automobiles as they stopped near the house, Miss Schindler joined others in the charivari by beating upon a tin pan with a large spoon. The spoon flew from her hand, and when she stepped out of the car and stopped to pick it up, a sudden heart attack gripped her and she fell to the ground, lifeless.

After an inquest in Maywood, the body will be brought to Anaheim for burial. Miss Schindler, who was born here and was graduated from the local high school, is survived by her mother, four brothers and three sisters. Funeral arrangements are being made at the Backs, Terry & Campbell chapel.

HILE DESIRES TO BE SANTA MONICA MAYOR

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, Oct. 8.—Charles Hile, a director of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce, today formally became a candidate for Mayor and councilman of public safety. He is the first to pay his fee and take out papers of nomination. He has been identified in business in Santa Monica and Ocean Park for the last ten years.

Helps Himself to Grape Crop and Pays Fine

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ONTARIO, Oct. 8.—Caught in the act of leading his motor car with some 500 pounds of wine grapes of the Italian Vineyard Company to the city and placed under arrest by Traffic Officer Ralph R. Truitt, who has been detailed on special vineyard patrol duty during the grape harvest, John Kocak of Los Angeles today received a $100 fine and a charge of grape stealing and drew a sentence of 30 days in jail or twenty-five days in the county workhouse.

Koch declared in court that he had thought the vineyards had already been harvested and that he and his wife, who was working with him, were merely taking the left-over grapes to the city. He was returned to the Italian Vineyard Company.

RAISINS AND GRAPES UNDAMAGED BY RAIN

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
FRESNO, Oct. 8.—Kain yesterday did not do any material damage to raisins or grapes, according to Fred P. Roulland, county horticultural commissioner, today. Engravers, claimed to be bad were shown up to be so by the rain, he declared, and quality fruit will result. Windy blowing today will rapidly drying up the moisture.

WOMEN'S SHOP IS ROBBED Burglars Get $75,000 Worth of Gowns at New Pasadena Store After Cutting Through Wall

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Oct. 8.—Boring through the plaster wall of an empty store room, clever thieves entered the Meyer Segel Company's shop of women's apparel at an early hour this morning and robbed the place of about $75,000 worth of valuable gowns.

Only the most expensive gowns, and coats were taken by the thieves, who worked for several hours undisturbed. An automobile was used to carry the goods away, police believe. The large selection of beautiful gowns was carefully gone over by the thieves. Garments not taken were left in a heap in one corner of the shop.

As a protection against being seen by people on Colorado street, where the shop is located, the thieves piled up front of the windows so that their work could continue with little chance of disturbance. A small iron bar was used to break a hole in the plaster wall. They made their exit, police state, through a rear door.

AVIATORS TO TAKE FLIGHT ON NAVY DAY Twelve From San Diego to "Attack" Los Angeles With Leaflets

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN DIEGO, Oct. 8.—A feature of the observance of Navy Day on the 27th inst. will be a flight of twelve De Havilland planes from San Diego to Los Angeles and adjoining towns and an "aerial attack" during which thousands of leaflets will be scattered on those cities. The leaflets will carry the Navy's message to the people of Los Angeles and vicinity. The flight will be in command of Lieut. B. H. Wyatt.

Next week thirty-two planes will hop off from North Island, bound for the American Legion convention at San Francisco. A number of delegates of the San Diego convention will be passengers.

Among aviators participating in the Legion convention will be Capt. Lowell Smith and Lieut. John P. Richter, who hold the world's record for sustained flight. They will continue on to Elaine, Wash., close to the Canadian line, where they will prepare for their attempt at a border-to-border flight. Definite announcement was made today that the event was scheduled for the 27th inst. The hazardous mid-air refueling operation perfected by Smith and Richter and which enabled them to establish a new world's record for sustained flight here recently, will be carried out at Eugene, Ore., and Sacramento. It is believed only two contacts will be necessary to replenish the Smith-Richter plane with gasoline, fuel and water sufficient to carry them to the Mexican border. They said today they expected to complete the trip in ten hours.

FIVE HURT IN FRESNO FIRE

Department Members Taken to Hospital

One is Injured in Jump as Wall Totters

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
FRESNO, Oct. 8.—Five firemen were injured and damage estimated at $50,000 was caused early today by a fire that partly wrecked a two-story building at 1033 1/2 street, under lease to Mave & Millard, restaurant owners. From 2 a.m. until daylight firemen fought the blaze and it was not extinguished until 8 o'clock. The fire was the largest here this year. The injured: D. A. Spencer, 33 years of age, 2150 Tupperman street, hoseman, for tendons strained and hands cut when he jumped from the second floor to the ground to escape a falling wall; R. M. Hicks, 26, of 461 Inga street, engineer, head cut by a falling brick; F. Dugovic, 24, of 1355 O street, hoseman, hands cut; M. W. Wright, 32, of 435 F street, captain, cut by falling glass. Assistant Chief Ralph Williams, fire marshal, partially blinded by dust and smoke.

All were treated at the Emergency Hospital.

The fire apparently originated in a linen closet in the restaurant, which was on the ground floor and in the basement. Substantially, including A. M. Dillingham, jeweler, suffered losses from fire, water and smoke.
